Indict 4 County Jail Inmates on Escape Attempt

Indictment of four felons who assaulted two Ulster County jailers seized the ring of keys and made a futile attempt to escape from the Ulster County jail on August 2, was included among 29 open indictments handed up by the April grand jury in a final report Thursday afternoon.

Pleas of innocent were entered by the four men when arraigned before County Judge Raymond J. Mino by Assistant District Attorney Philip W. Schunk.

Assault Charged
 Charged with third degree assault, two counts, and attempting to prevent an officer from performing his duty, were Charles C. Eastment, 25; Lloyd W. Jenkins, 25; Harold Delano Lee, 25; John F. Tarter, 29.

Eastment of Brooklyn, was in jail on a charge of burglary, unlawful entry, first degree, grand larceny and conspiracy charge arising out of an alleged entrance to a New Paltz store where it is charged he took clothing.

N.J. Firm Gives Low Bid to Raze Downtown Sites

A low bid for a second demolition contract in downtown's Broadway East urban renewal project area was submitted by William M. Young Co., Inc., of 235 Clifford Street, Newark, N. J., the same company which bid low for clearing the housing project site.

$234,000 Low Bid
 Its bid submitted Thursday for razing some 300 structures in the area was $234,000. Second lowest bid was by Anthony Costanzi, of Kingston, who bid $284,928. Six bids were received.

Other bids received by the Kingston Urban Renewal Agency at its Broadway office at 2 p. m. were: Poughkeepsie Wrecking Company Inc., Manchester Road, Poughkeepsie, $315,000; S.A.S. Equipment Co., North Bergen, N. J., $359,300; Associated Wreckers Inc., Secaucus, N. J., $408,775; and the Kaiser-Nelson Steel and Salvage Corp., 500

Hurricane Slams Into Navy Base, Fears for Haiti

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Inez screamed into eastern Cuba today with 127-mile an hour fury, and in her wet, gloomy wake a blackout of communications concealed a possible human tragedy in Haiti's "Valley of Death."

"I don't see how Haiti could have escaped a disaster," said Gordon Dunn, chief of the Miami Hurricane Center.

Regains Ferocity
 Weakened in her Titanic battle with the mountains of Haiti and the Dominican Republic, Inez had regained much of her ferocity in the water crossing to Cuba.

The U.S. Navy base at Guantanamo Bay was hammered by sustained winds of 127-mile an hour velocity as the great storm crossed the coast of Cuba's Oriente Province, and Fidel Castro's struggling economy faced a disastrous blow.

Haiti's "Valley of Death" is a deep trough between mountain ranges, reached from the coastal town of Barahona on the Tiburon Peninsula to Port-au-Prince, the capital 150 miles away.

Straight into this trough, Inez hurled the full force of her wind and rain. Funnelling between the mountains, the winds may have built up well beyond the 100-mile-an-hour velocity (Continued on Page 22, Col. 6)

Clergy Panel Tells Kiwanis Views of Ecumenical Change

Comments concerning the ecumenical movement and its relationship locally were heard at Kingston Kiwanis Club Thursday when the Rev. David C. Gaise, DD, the Rev. Charles Koerber, and the Rev. C. Pershing Hunter were heard in a panel discussion.

The pastor of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, the Rev. Dr. Gaise, acted as moderator of the discussion. In his introduction he referred to the ecumenical movement as a "great movement abroad in the

 Extensive bridge and arterial route plans for the area were discussed Thursday night at the ninth annual dinner meeting of the Port Ewen Businessmen Association.

Some 130 persons attended the event at the Hedges, West Park, and heard John D. Manning, assistant district engineer of the New York State Department of Public Works, detail the proposed project.

Bridge Would Be First
 The arterial would go from near Caldor store in the Town of Ulster to the old airport in the Port Ewen area, linked by a new bridge over the Rondout Creek. According to Manning the three-phase building program would cover a five to seven year span.

It is anticipated the bridge would be constructed first, possibly completed by the end of 1968. Town of Ulster arterial would be next with Town of Esopus portion as the final phase.

Bullets Hit Three Cars

Troopers Comb Paltz Area for T-Way Sniper

State troopers combed a wooded area on the west side of the New York State Thruway near mile post 81, Town of New Paltz, Thursday afternoon for a sniper whose bullets hit three cars within minutes. Two women passengers were injured by flying glass.

Second Incident
 The incident was the second to occur on the superhighway in less than 14 hours, and caused some concern among state police.

BCI Investigators today continue investigation of the shooting incident which occurred at 1:50 p. m. yesterday.

The person sought for questioning apparently stood in a wooded area on a rock ledge as he fired at cars passing along the Thruway.

According to Trooper Thomas Searies of the Kingston detail, John Widdemer, Gloversville, was driving south when an object believed to have been a bullet struck the right vent glass splintering it. Shattered glass hit Widdemer's wife, Lois, who received lacerations, it was reported.

Object Shatters Glass
 Following about 300 feet behind the Widdemer vehicle was a car driven by Gerald Bolton, of Allentown, Pa. An object shattered the glass on the right vent and pieces of glass injured Bolton's wife, Mildred, troopers said.

A third car occupied by a man and two women happened along and an object crashed against the metal near the vent, but did not hit the glass. The driver stopped and talked with Widdemer and Bolton and then continued on.

On Wednesday Mrs. Evelyn Jenkins of 4 Joalyn Road, New Paltz, a teacher at Hurley School complained to the sheriff's office that she was driving her car along the Thruway about six miles north of New Paltz when an unidentified person fired a shot which hit her car.

Report Historic Building Survey Near Completion

A progress report by the Historic Sites Committee of the Ulster County Planning Board said today that the field survey, consisting of locating and researching every building in Ulster County built prior to 1850 is nearing completion in the Hurley, Kingston, Rochester, Rosendale, Saugerties and Woodstock areas.

Public Response Helps
 The field survey consists of acquiring all information factual and hearsay concerning these buildings for the purpose of recording, protecting, restoring and maintaining historic sites significant to American history and folklore.

Public response has led to the discovery of many old homes heretofore unknown. Each of these buildings is researched by (Continued on Page 22, Col. 5)

Arrest 3 From Here, 4 Others

Note Operations From Spa to City

A crackdown on gambling operations that extended from Saratoga to Kingston, and allegedly involved a syndicate with an annual take of upwards of $1 million, on Thursday afternoon resulted in the arrest of seven men, including three from Ulster County and the seizure of policy slips, $6,000 and a 1963 Cadillac.

Extensive Investigation
 Raids in many areas were directed by about 24 special agents of the Intelligence Division of the Internal Revenue Service assisted by State and local police. A spokesman for the IRS told The Freeman that the arrests yesterday were the result of an extensive investigation conducted in recent weeks.

The seven men, one of whom was taken into custody in Albany in connection with the investigation, were specifically charged with failure to register and pay for a special occupational tax on wagering, commonly referred to as the purchase of a bookie occupational federal tax stamp, which costs $50.

The defendants were arraigned last night before U.S. Commissioner John B. Garrity, 11 Cannon Street, Poughkeepsie, who paroled the seven men until today when they were to post bail ranging from $100 to $500.

Defendants Identified
 Federal authorities identified the defendants as:

James Cardinale, 59, of 88 Farrelly Street, Kingston, and his 20-year-old son, John F. Cardinale, same address; George Carpozis, 32, of Hasbrouck Avenue, Port Ewen; Grady Thomas, 47, of 2 Windsor Street, Julius Thomas, 45, his brother, of 21 Green Street, and Jerome Smith, 53, of 55 Hill Street, all of Catskill, and Harry Swain, also of that village.

James Cardinale, who a spokesman for the IRS said was recognized as the "king pin" and Carpozis were previously arrested on Sept. 19 during a raid by state troopers, sheriff's deputies and city detectives staged at the Hudson View Cabins, Port Ewen.

Assistant District Attorney Robert A. MacKinnon, who took part in the Port Ewen raid last week said after the arrests that some $1,800 in cash and a large number of policy slips were seized.

Kingston, Catskill Arrests
 The Cardinales were arrested in Kingston yesterday, and the Thomas brothers and Smith were taken into custody at 3:50 p. m. in the village of Catskill by IRS special agents and Leeds State Police BCI officers.

Citizens' Survey Committee Makes Report

Recommends School District Library System With Main Branch in Kingston

Recommendations that a School District Library be formed in the Kingston area and that existing libraries become branches of the library, have been advanced by the Citizens Survey Committee of Ulster County Inc.

The committee survey points out that although the Kingston Library is chartered to serve the city population of 29,000, it actually serves the area coinciding most closely with the boundaries of the School District with about twice that population.

Under the proposal the Kingston Library would be referred to the Board of Education of the Consolidated School District and maintained as a school district library. The committee survey notes the need for a broader tax base to include actual users.

The report shows that the Stone Ridge Library is the only one that meets the criteria for number of open hours daily and Kingston Library meets 90 per cent of that standard.

Figures from the State Public and Association Libraries Statistics 1964, which are listed in the survey committee report, show that Ellenville, which maintains its own library, has 30,599 volumes, while Kingston Library has 24,353 and Woodstock 26,478 volumes.

Mrs. David S. Gerbarg is chairman of the Citizens Survey Library Committee of Ulster County Inc., and other members are Robert E. Davis, Mrs. Frances K. Prior. The late Rabbi Herbert I. Bloom was one of the original members of the committee.

This situation, the report notes, suggests the need for a broader tax base. Therefore, it is suggested that the Kingston Library become a School District Library with all of its funds coming from the district. It also has been suggested that the trustees of the public libraries in other school districts in the county begin to meet together to explore the advantages of becoming school district libraries.

The committee was incorporated in April 1964, and is composed of representatives of a cross-section of Ulster County. The membership has been actively promoting movements for the betterment of the county at large.

A 68-page report of an extensive survey has been prepared by the committee headed by Clifford A. Henze, Town of Hurley, president, and Dr. Herbert Der-

hints from Heloise

Dear Heloise: Noticing turkey prices in the paper reminded me that large turkeys are always the best. Not only is the price less per pound, but the percentage of waste per pound is also less, and the meat is usually better quality.

Of course the size of our families, stoves and refrigerators often makes a 20 to 25 pound turkey impossible.

The solution: Have the butcher saw (if frozen) or cut the turkey in halves or quarters. Freeze the extra and use it when you wish.

H. B. Miller
Sir, you are so right about the larger turkeys being the best buy.

And the idea of having the butcher halve or quarter it for smaller families is wonderful.

Now we can have turkey when we want it without being faced with a freezer full of leftover roast turkey.

Thank you muchly for the hint! Heloise

Dear Heloise: I read that a woman used expensive perfume to remove adhesive-tape marks from the skin. A much easier (and less expensive) way is to snap off a small piece of fresh tape, and with a blotting and pulling motion, remove every trace of left-on "goo."

Paula
Letter of Laughter

Dear Heloise: Who said it was "for free" to use the effervescent tablet bottles to hold spools of thread?

Now I have to buy those headache tablets that I never had to buy before — just to get the bottles

E.B.
Dear Heloise:

Whenever a baby visits us, I get our mother's measuring spoons and take the medium sized one off the ring.

This makes a nice-sized spoon for the baby to eat with, since regular spoons are too big.

Dear Heloise:

When waxing or polishing furniture, use oven mitts.

I use one for the wax and the other for polishing. They are grand.

Mrs. Wm. Doran
What a wonderful way to use those mitts after they get too thin for their original use. Not only do they do a good waxing and polishing job but you don't get the goop all over your hands.

Heloise
Dear Heloise:

I would like to give you a tip on how to use that material you have left over after shortening your bedroom drapes or curtains. When I cut my curtains off, I took the leftover material, cut to fit and glued it onto by bedroom lamp shades.

I also cut some of the flowers out and glued them onto a plain white plastic waste basket.

Now I have a matching set which makes bedroom more attractive.

Carolyn Plicka
Dear Heloise:

Here's a tip for the gal golfers, and, incidentally, another use for the versatile nylon net.

A strip of netting, tied somewhere on your golf cart, is the best cloth to use to clean your clubs. The net cleans the dirt and grass out of the grooves of the club head and is always handy.

M.L.B.
You're a brain. My husband agrees. He's a golfer, too, and sends his thanks.

Heloise
The identification tag need not be expensive — gold or silver plated or aluminum would serve the purpose just as well.

The idea of carrying the information about each child in the car pool is also wonderful.

I hope that other mothers will put both of your hints to use.

Heloise
Dear Heloise:

I took my knitting with me one afternoon, and discovered I had two different sizes of knitting needles by mistake.

So, I decided that after this I will buy different colors for different sizes of needles. For instance, the size six will be red, the size four will be blue, etc.

That way, there will be no problem of getting them mixed up and wasting a whole afternoon by having the wrong size needle.

Ella C. Donovan
Dear Heloise:

For a quick glass of lemonade: Put the sugar in a glass and add a little hot water. While you are getting the ice and lemon juice, the sugar will be dissolved, and you do not have to do a lot of stirring.

Dear Heloise: Just Me
I bought a wedding gift for a friend, only to find out it too bulky for a nice-sized box.

While looking for paper large enough to wrap the present, I saw some oilcloth which was only slightly more expensive than the total price of the paper I would have needed.

It made a beautiful wrapping didn't rip when handled, and the bride and groom had a good size, easily cleaned tablecloth after unwrapping the present.

Albany Surgeon To Address County Doctors Tuesday

Dr. Ralph D. Alley, attending Thoracic Surgeon at Albany Medical Center Hospital, will speak on Ventricular aneurysms due to myocardial infarction at the October meeting of the Ulster County Medical Society.

Officials said the session will be held at 7:30 p. m., Tuesday, in the Governor Clinton Hotel. Born in Bulsar, India, and educated at the University of Virginia and Yale University School of Medicine, Dr. Alley was a Fellow in Malariology, International Division, Rockefeller Foundation, while interning in surgery at the New Haven Hospital.

In 1961, following a number of distinguished posts, he became associate professor of thoracic surgery at the Albany Medical College and in July of that year was named to his present position.

He is a member of numerous honor societies and was named diplomate for the American Board of Surgery in 1953 and for the Board of Thoracic Surgery in 1954.

Today's Business Mirror

By JOHN CUNIFF

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Early next year we will have completed six years of superboom, 72 months during which Americans made more material progress than some civilizations accomplished in centuries.

This progress comes after a couple of centuries of industrial revolution and refinement, the basic change of which has been to make Americans urban dwellers and office and factory workers rather than rural farmers.

Supply Essentials

Hundreds of millions of persons around the world still base their daily activities on supplying the essentials — food, clothing and shelter. This search pre-empts any other consideration.

Where have the many centuries of progress and the latest six years of superboom left us? Here are some of the facts, gathered at random from government statistics.

We'll spend about $4.5 billion this year putting up private buildings, most of them office structures and warehouses. Last year, stores, restaurants and garages led the list.

Church construction reached a peak in 1962 and has now dropped a bit to an average of about a billion dollars a year. Farm construction continues downward. We'll spend $4.5 billion on public schools but close to $8 billion on highway construction.

Enough Cars

There are enough cars on the road now to accommodate everyone in the front seat. They're being turned out at the rate of nine million a year, one-quarter of them air-conditioned. We make 150 million passenger cars a year.

On average, we now eat 20.5 pounds of candy a year, drink 16 gallons of beer and other malt beverages, and 14 gallons of soft drinks. Low-calorie drinks now account for one-quarter of those 14 gallons.

We'll produce more than 125 million tons of steel this year, close to a record. Much of it will be for farm machinery, a booming business because of mechanization. Although the number of farms is decreasing, $4 billion of farm machinery will be shipped this year.

Construction machinery to clear and rebuild the landscape to our suiting is another growth industry. This year shipments probably will be up for the sixth straight year to a total of $1.4 billion.

Our railroads, the wire that held together the industrial revolution, seem to be rebuilding — based on eight million wood railroad ties expected to be made this year.

We're buying larger refrigerators, most of them 14 cubic foot boxes. The automatic ice-maker has caught on so well the industry expects to make it standard on a million refrigerators in 1970.

Color television production this year may double 1964's total of 1.4 million units. We'll spend $300 million on phonograph records, more if a hot singer shows on the scene.

The use of electronic computers is on an almost straight-up course. The U.S. government, including the Internal Revenue Service, is the biggest user. It now has more than 2,000 of them.

We're spending $25 billion for entertainment but less of it for movies.

This isn't a profile of the American economy. It isn't a full-face portrait either. It is a picture that can be interpreted whatever way the viewer pleases.

Say Brown Is Cutting Into Early Reagan Lead on Coast

By REILMAN MORIN
AP Special Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A current gag in California's hot gubernatorial fight has a prominent Democrat saying: "We have met the enemy and they are us."

The joke can be no joke to Gov. Edmund G. Brown. Internal strife among his fellow Democrats ranks high among the hurdles he must clear to win a third term in a campaign drawing national attention.

Two-Term Governor

If he wins, Brown will be the first Democrat to get a third term in the California Governor's Mansion. Chief Justice Earl Warren, a Republican, held the office for three terms, but Warren was a "two-party governor," who regularly received support from the Democrats as well. Brown enjoys no such advantage.

The third term, party dissension, a potential "white backlash," a personable opponent who is putting on a strong campaign adds up to a tight race. At this point, Brown appears to be running slightly behind the GOP candidate, Ronald Reagan, former actor and television personality.

A Republican candidate must win Democratic support for victory in California, where registered Democrats outnumber Republicans 3 to 2.

Time for Change

In seeking another four-year term, Brown is aware that he is swimming against a rip tide of "time-for-a-change" sentiment. This sentiment, says Los Angeles Mayor Samuel W. Yorty, explains in part the startling vote he attracted in the Democratic primary last June. Yorty rolled up a whopping 981,000 votes to Brown's 1,355,000.

"There's a feeling in the party that it's time for new leadership," the mayor said.

Brown is getting much outside help. The President's wife was here last week. No political implications were attached to Mrs. Johnson's trip, the White House said, but then she did find some kind words for Brown in her speeches.

Earlier this month, the President gave Brown a pat on the back after the governor had a nationally televised confrontation with Reagan. Brown's aides said Johnson told him, via telephone, he had put on a "magnificent performance."

Call Reagan Tough

The governor says Reagan will be more difficult to beat than his two previous GOP gubernatorial opponents, former Sen. William F. Knowland in 1958 and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon in 1962.

Nonetheless, Brown exudes confidence. "We've turned the corner now," he says, "and we're on the way."

A recent survey indicated he may be right. The State Poll showed Brown gaining on Reagan but still behind. In percentages, the poll rated Reagan 45, Brown 41, and "don't know" 14. The comparable June figures were Reagan 48, Brown 37, and "don't know" 15.

Political observers in California said they consider the race neck and neck now and likely to remain so to the finish in November. A spectacular blunder in either camp, of course, could change the picture.

In order of importance, Brown's aides rate the following as his principal assets — prosperity, experience, his record, and his proven ability as a campaigner.

Cites Booming Economy

The governor takes every opportunity to emphasize the "booming economy" of California. With the exception of housing starts, the barometers tend to bear him out. He claims that personal income in the state is 20 per cent above the national average.

In his record, Brown is especially proud of two achievements, water and education. He put through the $1.75-billion, 20-year California Water Project and he has obtained nine new campuses for higher education. Along with the "time for a change" sentiment, Brown may be burdened with another potential disadvantage, the "white backlash," aftermath of the fight over the state fair housing law, the Rumford Act.

In a 1964 referendum Californians voted more than two to one to eliminate the law; Brown fought hard to retain it. Despite the vote, it remained on the books when the State Supreme Court ruled the referendum procedure was not constitutional.

Brown's Long Career

Edmund Gerald Brown was born in San Francisco, April 2, 1905. As a 12-year-old selling Liberty Bonds in World War I, he quoted Patrick Henry so often that he acquired his nickname, "Pat."

The record shows that he has been running for offices most of his life. In high school, at age 15, he held 11 student posts. He studied law in night school, passed the bar exams when he was 22, and opened a private practice.

In his first political foray, running for the state assembly, Brown ran as a Republican. He lost the race but won a pretty wife, Bernice Layne, daughter of a San Francisco police captain. She was one of his best precinct workers.

He changed parties in 1934 because, he says, he approved of the policies of President Franklin D. Roosevelt. In 1950, on his second try, he became attorney general, the only Democrat to win a statewide office that year. Eight years later, he became governor.

Candy Sale Will Help 4-H Camp

Three varieties of candy will be offered by 4-H club members during a Candy Sale Campaign being held the first 15 days in October to benefit the 4-H Camp Capital Improvement Fund.

Club leaders said peanut crunch, cashew crunch and chocolate covered mints will be sold by 4-Hers throughout the county. The proceeds will help towards improvement, maintenance and operation of a camp located at Plutarch, N. Y. which was begun eight years ago.

Among these improvements needed are installation of a pool filtering system, enlargement of a lake, construction of an outdoor conservation and recreation pavilion and maintenance of the camp grounds.

Officials said over 300 camper weeks were provided Ulster County club members this past summer at the camp.

Challenges Intellectuals

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has challenged intellectuals to provide answers to problems facing urban areas. Addressing the 50th anniversary dinner of the Brookings Institution Thursday night, Johnson said intellectuals cannot rest on their laurels. He gave them a new assignment. "What do we want our cities to be, and how can we achieve what we want?"

Earlier in the day, the White House announced Johnson will meet next week with French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville and British Foreign Secretary George Brown, then confer on Oct. 10 with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

Bill D. Moyers, press secretary said "there is no limit to the conversations that will take place" between Johnson and the three foreign leaders.

Will Smoke More

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government predicts Americans will smoke 54 billion cigarettes this year, or 2 per cent more than last year's record of 528 billion.

The Agriculture Department also reported a reverse in the switch to cigars and cigarillos that followed the government report on the health dangers of cigarettes. Use of these items dropped 2 per cent.

The department said the climb in cigarette consumption reflects an increase in the number of persons of smoking age, high levels of consumer income and larger shipments to armed forces overseas.

Rochester Transit Pact Going to Union

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — A tentative agreement between officials of the Rochester Transit Corp. and a bus drivers union on a dispute over work schedules will be submitted to union members for ratification "as soon as possible," their leader says.

John E. Gubiotti, president of Local 288, Amalgamated Transit Workers Union, added Thursday that an exact date for the session had not been selected. The 18-day-long dispute had cut bus service during the morning and evening rush hours and for transportation of school children.

Union and management negotiators came to the agreement Thursday, but neither side would discuss its terms.

The 330 drivers refused to work overtime after claiming that the bus company's fall schedule, which went into effect Sept. 12, required split shifts and split days off.

Review Past, Present Achievements of 4-H

National 4-H Week, Sept. 24-Oct. 1 provides an opportune time to look at the past and present achievements of Ulster County 4-H Youth.

During the year many educational programs and activities were conducted which provided 4-H Youth with not only learning experiences but opportunities to show and tell others what they have learned and accomplished in 4-H. The Ulster County Fair recently held in Aug. saw 350 4-H Youth exhibiting in many different project areas. From the County Fair members doing outstanding work were selected to participate in the Youth Department at the New York State Exposition. These included exhibits in foods, clothing, dairy cattle, light horse, dress revue, tractor driving, and judging teams in dairy, light horse and vegetable crops.

Climax of Year

A climax of the 4-H year is the annual 4-H Achievement Program where each 4-H Youth who has completed one or more projects and records receives a certificate and Achievement Pin. This year the Achievement Program will be conducted tonight at the Rondout Valley Central School. Older 4-H Youth who have done outstanding work in their projects will also receive county medals and announcement of those selected to participate in special trips and state programs will be made.

One of the most educational activities that 4-H Youth participate in are the Demonstration Days programs. A demonstration is where a 4-H member presents a talk or "Show-How" on something he or she has learned in 4-H. They give of their time and talents to direct, guide and supervise 4-H Youth in their activities and work," it was stressed.

It provides an opportunity for youth to develop poise and self-confidence, skill in using the demonstration method in teaching to tell others about 4-H work. A Fall Demonstration program is scheduled Saturday, Nov. 5 for older 4-H County Youth (12 years and over) while a Spring Demonstration Day will be held in March for Youth under 12. Last year approximately 275 youth participated.

A popular summer activity for many 4-H Youth is the Ulster County 4-H Camp Program conducted each year during July. Ulster County owns and operates its own camp at Plutarch. The Camping Program offers courses in swimming, conservation, crafts, outdoor living and provides opportunities for youth to develop physically, mentally and socially. This past year close to 300 4-Hers attended the three weeks Camp Program.

Hold Training Meetings

Throughout the year meetings are conducted to provide training in many different subject matter areas. Clinics and train-

In addition to the above, members have opportunities to attend out-of-county trips and tours. Each year some 15 boys and girls attend State 4-H Club Congress at Cornell University with 4-H members from all over New York State. 4-H Congress provides opportunities for members to attend meetings on citizenship, leadership, Living Science and Home Economics. These activities and programs supplement the local 4-H Club activities. "Ulster County can be proud of the accomplishments of its 4-H Youth and the fine job of leadership by 4-H local leaders. Local leaders perform an important task as they give of their time and talents to direct, guide and supervise 4-H Youth in their activities and work," it was stressed.

City 4-H Club Has Year's First Meet

The Little Women of Washington Avenue 4-H Club held its first meeting of the year recently with four new members accepted. They are Susan Dittus, Peggy Dittus, Crystal Goodman, and Susan Alsdorf. Judy Ablove was welcomed as a Junior Leader.

Elected as new officers were President, Paula Robinson; Vice President, Tracey Bowers; Secretary, Patty Barry; Treasurer, Susan Dittus; Song and Recreation Leader, Susan Alsdorf, and News Reporter, Lisa Supplies.

Projects scheduled for this year include Let's Sew and Foods, Let's Begin for first year girls, Time for Lunch, Let's Sew Blouses, and Sew a Fin! Seam for third and fourth year members. All members will work on Christmas Crafts.

Members will participate in a Candy Sale from Oct. 1st through Oct. 15th for the benefit of the 4-H Camp Fund. The next regular meeting will be held at 4 p. m. Oct. 7th.

Stone Ridge Legion Offers Use of Hall

A spokesman for the American Legion Post 1512, Stone Ridge, today said that the Legion Hall is available to any organization wishing to use it at no charge.

It was noted that the Legion at Stone Ridge has never charged for the use of the hall and will not in the future charge a rental fee.

Organizations now using the hall are Cub Scouts, Girl Scouts, 4-H, Marbletown Citizens Committee, religious instruction, Bible study group, Republican and Democratic Clubs.

Ed Lane, adjutant of Post 1512, on behalf of the Legion expressed appreciation to all who had made the Legion function in the community possible.

SCHOOL OF THE FUTURE

The time may not be far off when the "open-space" school, with few interior walls or doors or corridors, will become dominant in new school construction. Then the school with box-like classrooms joined by corridors may gradually fade into the past along with the little red schoolhouse of grandfather's day.

This appears, at least, to be the trend. There is much to recommend it. Even the laymen without special knowledge can recognize that when he considers one of the most interesting of the new buildings—Public School 219 in Flushing, N. Y. It is a domed structure with an unvalued teaching area in which movable dividers and soundproof curtains—the latter only to enclose such noisy activities as dancing and games—assure privacy without confining class groups in rooms.

The lack of convention rooms and corridors is not the only intriguing departure from less radical schoolhouses. Thick overall carpeting sharply curtails the noise problem. Children are not segregated by grade or age, and reportedly gain by this in their educational experience. It is all rather like an enormous living room in which about 150 pupils from five to seven years old learn together.

The apparent informality, and perhaps seeming lack of discipline, might be somewhat shocking to parents accustomed to thinking of school in terms of the orderly classroom pattern they knew in their childhood. However, there is good reason to think that when they get used to the idea they will agree with educators that there are many advantages in the "open-space" school. Perhaps domed structures such as the one at Flushing, N. Y., are the school pattern of the future.

STILL NOT FREE

Russia is East and America is West and a favorite prediction of many observers is that the ideological twain will eventually meet somewhere between pure communism and 19th-century capitalism.

The Russians do seem to be adopting the same goals—and many of the same methods of reaching those goals—of material well-being which the West too often holds up as proof of the superiority of its system.

But statistics concerning gross national product, per capita income, consumer goods and whatever are not the measure of the real distance between East and West. This is something that can only be experienced first-hand.

A recent traveler to the Soviet Union writes that the Russians and Ukrainians his group met were undoubtedly better off materially than they could have been under the old imperial regime. They have the basic needs, much leisure and many of the little "extras" of life.

"They have something else, though, that is hard to define but easy to sense. They have an invisible wall around their emotions," says James V. Hauser, president of the Iowa Grain and Feed Association.

The Russians can be helpful, they can be friendly, they can be curious—but only so far as they have been told to be helpful, friendly and curious, he reports. The desire is there, but the actual practice of meeting and knowing people never quite comes off.

As an introduction to the country, Hauser's group of 51 people was held up for an hour and a half at Moscow Airport because of some mysterious irregularity in one of their passports, while the petty official who had started the uproar searched for someone with sufficient authority to override his own decision.

This same close-minded fear to make an on-the-spot decision not prescribed by the book dogged them all through their visit and could not help but cast a pall over their association with the Soviet people.

The young manager of a collective farm made excuses about showing the group his artificial insemination setup for hogs, not because he did not want them to see it but because he was unable or unwilling to make the necessary unilateral decision.

Examples such as these, thinks Hauser, demonstrate the real weakness in the Communist system.

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

CHIANG KAI-SHEK AND ASIA'S FUTURE. TAIPEI, TAIWAN—The message came while our party was inspecting the naval port and big oil refinery of Kaohsiung on the south coast of Taiwan: I could see President Chiang Kai-shek. Since the news from Red China would seem to make it appear that a year of great and unforeseen opportunity may be dawning for the Free Chinese to exploit troubles on the mainland, I hurried back to Taipei as fast as I could. The typhoon clouds that enveloped the plane for a trip of a couple of hundred miles over the mountainous spine of the beautiful island seemed just as opaque as the future of Asia, but possibly Chiang, who had fought the Communists for forty years and remains the Generalissimo of 600,000 crack troops, could offer something to pierce the obscurity.

Presently I found myself being driven to the summer home of President Chiang on Yang Ming Mountain, which, significantly, is named for a Confucian scholar who said, "to know is not enough, you must act on it." James Shen, the Generalissimo's interpreter, for ten years, had told me that his boss, who is nearing eighty, is in excellent shape, but I wasn't prepared for the youngish, almost dapper, person who entered the room and bade me be seated beneath one of his wife's remarkable paintings.

The interview was not quite orthodox, for Chiang himself did most of the questioning for a full half hour. He wanted to know about the whole American scene. One question in particular cracked through the room. In James Shen's paraphrase it was, "What would be the reaction in the United States if the Free Chinese were to invade the mainland on their own?"

I tried to answer as carefully as I could. The American attitude would surely be conditioned by fear. The nature of the response would depend on the degree of provocation: Americans need the sinking of a "Maine" or a Pearl Harbor or a Cuban missile crisis to bring them to accept the risk of war. I said there would be a howl from the Left if the Free Chinese were to try invasion, and mentioned the American attitude as of the year 1937, when Franklin D. Roosevelt's famous quarantine the aggressors speech provoked a wave of apprehension. But, as in 1937, there could be second thoughts.

Then, as the interview developed, it became apparent that the Generalissimo was thinking that historical opportunity might present itself in compelling fashion at an unforeseen moment. He spoke about Lin Piao, Red China's Defense Minister and Mao's anointed candidate for future leadership. When Mao goes, there is a question whether Lin Piao will have the loyalty of the army. As Chiang would have it, the fact that Mao and Lin turned to the Red Guard rather than trust the so-called Liberation Army to carry through the purges of the "cultural revolution" could be a portent of future functions. During the civil war Lin Piao commanded the Fourth Field Army, and presumably the soldiers of this unit would stick by him. But the First Army was commanded by Peng Teh-huai, who was fired from his job as Lin's predecessor in the Defense Ministry in 1959. The Second Army was headed by Liu Po-chen, the "one-eyed general," who has been relieved, and the Third Army was led by Chen Yi, now the Foreign Minister. As Taiwan intelligence sees it, there could be disillusioned subordinates in at least half of the Red Chinese forces. And military defection has played a big role in Chinese history in the past.

I asked the Generalissimo if military defectors in a coming Red break-up might go over to the side of the Soviet Union, thus precipitating a three-cornered fight on the mainland. He thought that some might be loyal to "revisionist" Communism, but said the great bulk would come to "our side."

The Generalissimo held out no hope that Mao or Lin Piao can be led to peaceful ways. Within three to five years Red China will have deliverable atomic missiles. When that time comes, a mere local U.S. victory in Vietnam will dwindle to a side issue. Mao and Lin figure they could sacrifice 300,000,000 Chinese in an atomic war and still win. Chiang said there will be no chance for a "soft" or Khrushchev-type generation to develop in Red China as it did over a forty-year period in Russia, for history today is running too fast. Atomic technology is moving swiftly in Red China both biological processes, and the crunch with the West will come before a peaceful younger Red mainland generation can mature.

The logic of the Generalissimo's views is that a successful preemptive invasion of the mainland by the Free Chinese before Mao and Lin have atomic power will save the United States a great tragedy. But will the easy, optimistic American people listen? (Copyright, 1966, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Fluctuating Sugar Level

Hints Possible Danger

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—What is brittle diabetes? Does insulin have to be kept refrigerated?

A—There is a great deal of confusion over the term "brittle diabetes." This type of diabetes is characterized by a blood sugar level that fluctuates sharply and unpredictably. This may occur without causing any symptoms or it may lead quickly to a diabetic coma (too little insulin) or to the weakness of a typical insulin reaction (too much insulin). The reason diabetes acts this way in some persons is not known but it is more common in those who develop the disease early in life. The brittle diabetic may take some comfort in the fact that the fluctuations in his blood sugar are not due to any errors in the way he is managing his treatment. With careful observation he can learn to control his disease in spite of these fluctuations. The best control possible at all times must be his constant goal.

Although your druggist keeps his supply of insulin refrigerated, you can keep it perfectly well at room temperature for the short time it is being used.

Q—About three years ago I was found to have diabetes and began to take insulin. Now I am losing my sight. Could the insulin cause this?

A—Retinitis with loss of vision is one of the serious complications of diabetes. It may occur even when the diabetes is carefully controlled but inadequate control or a lighthearted attitude toward the disease will hasten its progress. Too much insulin could cause a feeling of weakness but not a loss of vision.

A—A friend who is a diabetic drinks a lot of whisky. Is this bad for him?

A—A lot of whisky is bad for anyone and especially bad for a diabetic because it makes regulation of the required dosage of insulin for adequate control of his diabetes impossible.

Q—I have heard that aspirin tablets give off a vinegar odor when they are kept too long. Is this true? Would it be bad to take them then?

A—Aspirin is acetylsalicylic acid. It should be kept dry because moisture hastens its breakdown into acetic acid, which smells like vinegar and salicylic acid. Salicylic acid is very irritating to the stomach and may cause bleeding from the mucous membrane. The degree of harm would depend on the amount of chemical change that had taken place and one's own sensitivity to salicylic acid.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Washington News

By RAY CROMLEY Washington Correspondent Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

HONOLULU (NEA) — From here it is clear that the war is going to escalate at a steady pace in men and dollars.

This escalation will put increasing pressures on the economy.

It can no longer be business as usual.

The United States has more than a million men in this war—in the field, including troops in Viet Nam, Thailand, Okinawa, Hawaii, the B-52 bases on Guam, naval men afloat on the Southeast Asia coast and in backup, line of communications and training in the United States itself.

War costs are escalating by $2.5 billion every 90 days. Plans for the post-moon space program are being pushed back because the money is needed for Viet Nam.

We are pouring more than a half billion dollars a year of economic aid into the far areas.

There is no escaping the pressure the growing size of the war will put on the U.S. economy in the next 12 months.

The war is chewing up materiel at a great rate. Losses in some key types of arms and equipment—including some major plane types—are growing faster than replacements can be produced. This will call for a growing number of major emergency orders.

Shortages in critical materials are putting pressures on prices of raw materials, components and a range of finished products.

There are parallel and growing shortages of men with critical skills in the armed forces and industry.

These shortages and the rising cost of living are pushing labor costs up. These increasing labor costs, in turn, are increasing production costs and forcing prices still higher.

The administration can do great harm to the economy by continuing to play Viet Nam as a life-as-usual, don't-rock-the-home-front war.

The war is suffering because certain badly-needed types of arms and equipment aren't being developed and produced quickly enough. The bogdown is not in the delivery system but in development and production bottlenecks.

The fighting men are handicapped because selected reservists and reserve units with critical abilities and critical training and skills aren't being called up.

At home, inflation next year will be worse. Major labor unions are expected in 1967 to boost their wage increase demands by 20 to 25 per cent above the increases demanded this year just to meet rising living costs.

If the economy is not to get out of hand:

Some tough measures have got to be taken to make certain that essential supplies of skilled manpower and critical materials are channeled to critical war tasks in 1967.

Taxes will have to be raised. A considerable chunk of nonwar government programs will have to be pared.

See Church Repercussions With Congress-LBJ Views

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — This might be called the time of paradoxes in American history. One week the Congress of the United States refuses to adopt a proposed constitutional amendment to permit voluntary prayer in public schools because it is argued that "church and state" are supposed to remain separate. But this week President Johnson tells an audience of bishops of the African Methodist Episcopal Church that their ministers should get into politics and involve themselves in the controversies of government. This contradiction is bound to have its repercussions among the members of churches of all sects throughout the United States, many of whom have been insisting that their ministers should stay out of politics and try to advance the good of the community primarily by helping to make human beings better individuals.

Recognizes Dissent

The President recognizes that there is a dissent in many congregations about the role of the preacher. He acknowledges there may be some persons who say that the preachers "should stay in the church and stay out of any socially conscious movements, poverty programs, community developments or political meetings." Mr. Johnson then declares: "I hope you will tell them this for me: Tell them that in this age the church cannot afford to stand aside from the great problems of our times." "Because if the preachers in this country step aside from politics and community life and leadership and social problems, then whom steps in? If the good men of the church have no business in these causes who is left to do that business? I have never heard a satisfactory answer to those questions."

Apparently the President is unaware of the bitter controversies that are going on inside the churches in all sections of the country, as laymen protest that their ministers should not participate actively in political movements. Again and again, it has been insisted that while ministers express their own views they should not undertake to seek in behalf of the members of their congregations on one side or the other of any political question. It is contended that no preacher has the right to use the name of his church or his congregation in politics or in governmental controversies and to give the impression that he represents the viewpoint of the members.

The answer usually made by churchmen who are active in politics is that most of the questions being discussed nowadays are important from a moral and social viewpoint. The clergy has always played an influential part in community life and has performed a valuable service in pointing out the need for personal integrity, righteousness and honesty in all walks of life as well as helpfulness to one's fellow man. But this is a far different thing from lobbying in Washington or engaging in activities of a political nature, and giving the impression that the minister is reflecting a consensus of his own congregation.

The President's comment that "the church cannot afford to stand aside from the great problems of our times" will be interpreted as just another way of saying that the church and the state are not separate, after all, and now are to become closely allied with factions or political parties — all on the theory that, since the objective is good, "the end justifies the means." The President emphasizes his concept of the relationship of church and state when he says that "the story of our progress in Civil Rights is the story of the pulpit, as well as the story of congressional battles." He declares that the "Headquarters for the battle in almost every community have always been a church and often an African Methodist Episcopal Church."

The President expresses the hope that "the cry for freedom" will not become "the sound of a brick cracking through a store window." He cautions that, "if that sound should drown out the voices of reason, frustration, will replace progress and all of our best work will be undone."

Hot, Delicate Question

Mr. Johnson does not mention the names of leaders who have preached non-violence yet have incited others to violence. The President's remarks this week will be the subject of controversy for a long time to come. For he touched on one of the hottest and most delicate questions in the whole "Civil Rights" crusade and in the relationship of church and state. (Copyright, 1966, Publishers Newspaper Syndicate.)

Teaching children the value of money is an impossible task. It cannot be done. They are born spendthrifts or tightwads, and like the color of eyes, nothing will alter it. As the father of four daughters — all delightful sprites who learned how to play father before they attended kindergarten — I assure you that the dollar sign is important to all of them.

It is second in importance only to those flea-bitten loungers called boys. All of the children were aware of the other sex long before young men understood any more about females than that they are weak, effeminate and giddy. As a means of defense against cold logic, all the girls understood the value of tears and laughter at the age of three. They never forgot it and have never stopped using it.

In the matter of basic economics, we have four girls with two opinions. Virginia Lee, the oldest at 28, is the mother of seven children and would rather empty the bank account buying new dresses and suits for the little ones than sit and stare at the balance in a bank book. If necessary, she would prefer to give it away to someone more needy.

This keeps her husband, Charles Fréchet, hopping. When he helps to bathe and put the little ones to bed at night, he must sneak a look at the bank book to find out what new catastrophe occurred in a store window by day. Virginia Lee has a fine feeling for money. It's called contempt. If the world caved in tomorrow and she had to take her brood to a furnished room, it wouldn't matter to her as long as they were together.

Gayle, the next in line, is a tightwad. At the age of five, she began to show signs of understanding what a buck is. Her older sister wanted a dollar for something and Gayle said: "If I give it to you, will you give me a dollar and twenty-five cents next week?"

This is against the law, and the kid could have been slammed into the pokey, but Ginny bowed to the demand and said: "All right, Cheapskate. You have a deal." Gayle pondered it and said: "For calling me a bad name, it will cost you $1.30." The sound of gnashing teeth is akin to the rotating blades of a rusty lawnmower. I predicted then that someday we would all be working for Gayle in a sweatshop. The prediction is still valid. At the age of 22, she is the only one in the family with real money. Recently, she wrote to her lawyers: "What do you mean, my money is earning four per cent? I can get six in a good bank." Gayle is short and dark and plump — like her father — and will open the sweatshop as soon as she can find a place where they don't believe in the minimum wage law.

Karen, 13, and blonde and statuesque, gets spending money for washing the boat down, cooking dinner when her mother is busy at the typewriter (and she can cook!), and doing odd jobs around the house, like failing over her own book bag on the floor next to her bed.

Her understanding of economics is "Give it to me quick and I'll show you how to spend it." In July, she was given a windfall of $25, and she said: "Oh, goodie, Christmas and birthdays are coming up, so I'll buy a few gifts ahead of time." Her younger sister, Kathleen, 11, tossing blonde pigtails toward the back of her neck, said "This is going into the bank. I should get about a dollar fifty a year on this, free."

I listen, and I am always startled. With girls you can never be sure what kind of emotion will pop to the surface. I have seen a sweet sad smile come up with tears on the lids when I mentioned that they should have new school uniforms. On the other hand, I have bought them new shoes and they have made a face and said: "Jck," whatever that is.

So I went out and bought Karen and Kathleen a few shares of Lone Star Gas and Oklahoma Natural Gas, solely to teach them what stocks are and how they appreciate and decline in value. At once, both girls abandoned the comics at breakfast in favor of stock quotes. Karen wants to sell the moment the stock earns a small profit. Kathleen asks will I give her a dollar a week for shining my shoes so that she can buy more shares?

Karen says: "Let me get it straight. If Lone Star Gas and Oklahoma Natural Gas go up a little, they owe me money, right?" I say right. Kathleen says: "If I am now a part-owner of these companies, they're working for me — right, Dad?" And I say yes.

Kathleen has it worked out that if she gets $1.12 dividend on each share, in 18 years she will have her investment back and still own the stock. Karen says proudly: "I'm going to grow up like my sister Ginny. Money isn't any good unless you have some fun with it."

The little one says, confidentially: "Daddy is nice, but in some things he's kind of slow. Look at the money he put into this house. None of it earns anything and he still has to pay taxes. I want my dollars to go out and work a little. Know what I mean?"

No, kid. I don't. . . . (Copyright, 1966, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Find: Demonstrations Hurt Rights Cause, Swells Backlash

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Stokely Carmichael, though never clear about it, shouts "black power" in a country where Negroes are only about 10 per cent of a population now numbering around 200 million.

So far this year at least 39 cities have been hit by racial violence. What good does this do Negroes? In some cases the riots may induce federal, state or city governments to do more about Negro housing and employment.

Antagonizes Whites
But at the same time it antagonizes a lot of whites, many of whom have been sympathetic to the problems of Negroes. Whatever kind of power Carmichael has in mind, it's still a dream. The whites have the real power. And this year, amid growing white antagonism, the civil rights cause has been hurt. Moderate-minded Negro leaders, like Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., take a dim view of Negro violence.

King said this month the civil rights movement has made too much progress through nonviolence to resort to violence now. Yet, this week on a CBS television program, with Mike Wallace interviewing a number of Negro leaders, one of them, Daniel Watts, editor of Harlem's "Liberator" paper, spoke contemptuously of moderate Negro leaders.

Name Calling

"House niggers," he called them. He said he meant Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People; King, head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference; and Whitney M. Young, executive director of the National Urban League.

Watts talked of forcing the white community to negotiate with Negroes. He didn't explain that. But how 10 per cent of the population can force the other 90 per cent to do anything it doesn't want to do was also left unclear.

Carmichael, head of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, is always vague on what he means by "black power," what it would consist of and how it could be obtained.

He was present Sept. 6 when Negroes rioted in Atlanta and dumped the mayor off an automobile. Later he was charged with inciting a riot.

Public opinion polls show white reaction against Negro violence is growing, that many whites think the civil rights movement is going too fast, and that many white liberals, previously sympathetic, are turning cool.

There can be little doubt the white reaction this month influenced senators who killed this year's civil rights bill and this week turned the clock back a bit on civil rights by approving a measure allowing doctors to keep white medicare patients separate from Negroes when they think it helpful.

And in the past few weeks politicians must have been stunned by what happened in Maryland and Georgia where voters in the Democratic primaries picked their candidates for governor.

Indicates Change

In Georgia it was a one-time restaurant owner and segregationist without political experience, Lester G. Maddox, who closed his restaurant rather than serve Negroes. And in Maryland it was George P. Mahoney who has had wretched political luck but this year had as his main theme opposition to open housing.

There is grim irony in the contempt shown by extremists like Watts for Negro leaders like Wilkins, King and Young. It was particularly ironic in the case of Wilkins whose NAACP has been the greatest force in obtaining civil rights for Negroes.

Can Meet Shortages

Study Reveals River Basin Potential

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Delaware River basin has "significant" undeveloped potential to meet water shortages and according to a joint federal-state study.

The study, by a federal-state coordinating committee directed by the Army Corps of Engineers, reported that the basin's hydroelectric power potential is approximately 400 per cent higher than its current output.

The report, released Thursday, estimated undeveloped water power in the four-state basin, New York and Delaware, at about 393,000 kilowatts in conventional installations. There are presently 12 hydroelectric facilities in the basin with a total capacity of 405,464 kilowatts, the report stated.

In addition to the output of the suggested conventional installations, about 1,300,000 kilowatts could be provided if a pumped storage facility were developed at the high-level Tocks Island Dam to be completed near the Delaware Water Gap by the mid-1970s, the report stated.

One of the purposes of the study is to project water, century the NAACP has been intensively fighting the Negroes' cause, and with steady success, led by Walter White, Wilkins' predecessor, and then Wilkins, Thurgood Marshall, the NAACP's attorney but now U.S. solicitor general, and Clarence Mitchell, the NAACP's Washington representative. It was the moderate Negroes like Wilkins, Marshall and Mitchell who made it possible for the civil rights movement to be born.

Spoiler Role Is Denied by Adams Against Governor

AUBURN, N. Y. (AP) — Paul L. Adams, the Conservative candidate for governor, denies that his party is playing the spoiler in the November election, particularly in the case of Republican Gov. Rockefeller.

"The Conservative party is in the election to win, if that is possible," Adams told about 200 persons at a rally here Thursday night.

"We are out to defeat no single candidate for, in our judgment, it would make no significant difference which of the other three won," he added.

Instead, Adams said, the Conservatives were opposed to liberals with records "of spending with utter disregard of taxpayer's right and fiscal responsibility."

He included Rockefeller in this group.

Liberals, he said, "delight to spend your money-in fact they think they must because you do not have the brains to do it."

Adams likened the philosophies of the Democratic and Liberal parties to that of the Republican.

"We feel the Democratic record stands condemned on the same indictment, and the Liberal party likewise," he said. Adams, vice president and dean of Roberts Wesleyan College, near Rochester, said his

Child Health Clinic

A child health conference, conducted by the Ulster County Health Department, will be held at the Hasbrouck Hall, Modena, Friday, Oct. 14 from 1 to 3 p. m.

These clinics are limited to infant and pre-school children for the purpose of improving child health through early recognition of defects, advice regarding nutrition, instruction of parents in understanding of growth and development, handling of minor behavior difficulties and the administering of immunizations for smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough and polio.

party would beat the others at the polls if the electorate acted as he hoped it would.

"We are committed to beat them all," he said. "And we will if the voters of this state will declare his independence of traditional, political bondage, examine the issues and the Conservative party proposals and then exercise the common sense which has been a native American trait."

Among proposals he reiterated were a five-per-cent reduction in the state budget next year with additional cuts to follow, repeal of the two-per-cent sales tax and repeal of the state's medical assistance law.

Pentagon Delays Defoliate Plan

DONG HA, South Viet Nam (AP) — Senior American military officers want to defoliate the demilitarized zone between North and South Viet Nam, but they are encountering obstacles. The high-ranking officers want to use chemicals to kill the leaves of trees and other plants along the zone, depriving North Vietnamese infiltrators of natural cover.

The advocates apparently have not cleared the hurdle of Pentagon permission.

The United States now estimates 6,000 men a month are moving into South Viet Nam from the Communist north. Many use the direct route across the demilitarized zone. Others take a longer, more difficult journey through Laos and Cambodia.

Reconnaissance teams working from observation posts on the ground try to keep a watch on the demilitarized zone's traffic, but lack of mobility and need for concealment hamper them.

The argument is that if all the leaves were killed, small airplanes could take over the job in the daytime. If equipped with infrared spotter scopes, they could even do it at night.

Seek to Identify Body

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — The identity of a man whose body was recovered Thursday from Onondaga Lake was being sought today by city and Onondaga County authorities. The body was found in about eight feet of water off the west bank of the lake after an informant told police a man's clothing had been found near there.

The Onondaga County Medical Examiner's office said the body had been in the water about two days but declined to issue a ruling on the possible cause of death.

Two Teeners Killed

WATERTOWN, N. Y. (AP) — Two teen-agers were killed and two others were injured when the automobile in which they were riding skidded about 200 feet and slammed into a utility pole on a rural road about two miles south of here.

The dead were Steven R. Kampf, 15, and Cindy Love, 17, both of Munnsville. Kampf's sister, Linda, 17, and Mary Jane Joy, also 17, of Sangerville, were reported in serious condition at Faxon Hospital in Utica.

Jury Is Deadlocked In Trial of Pupil

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — The trial of a 19-year-old high school pupil charged with second-degree manslaughter in the death of a University of Rochester student from Binghamton ended early today in a mistrial after the jury reported itself deadlocked.

The 11-man and one-woman jury had deliberated nearly 12 hours before reporting its inability to reach a verdict in the case of Anthony R. Mannella Jr. of Rochester.

Mannella was arrested March 6 in the death of the day before of Ivan Johnson, also 19. Police said the student was injured fatally in a fight with Mannella near a tavern in downtown Rochester.

Judge John J. Conway Jr., of Monroe County Court, thanked the jurors and dismissed them.

Mannella, described by police as an amateur boxer, was continued free on bail.

No date for a new trial was set.

Boy Pleads Innocent In Slaying of Parents

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — James M. DiCostanzo, 17, of Minoa, has pleaded innocent on the ground of insanity to two counts of first-degree murder in the slaying of his parents.

The youth's attorney entered the plea Thursday before Judge Ormand N. Gale of the Onondaga County Court. Gale adjourned further court action until Oct. 20 and ordered DiCostanzo held without bail.

DiCostanzo is charged with killing his father, George, 54, and his mother, Helen, 48, at the family home in the Syracuse suburb.

Their bodies were discovered Sept. 5.

Granted Limited License to Ship Medical Supplies

A limited license has been granted to the New York yearly meeting of the Society of Friends to export medical supplies through Canadian channels for war-torn areas of Viet Nam, whether controlled by North, South or National Liberation Front.

The agreement with the U.S. Government agencies involved was reached at a meeting Thursday night in New York City.

A major Quaker body, the New York yearly meeting of the Religious Society of Friends, reported 72 Friends meetings in New York State, Connecticut and northern New Jersey, last month publicly challenged government restrictions on humanitarian relief. It tried to send relief parcels and checks for medical supplies to the Red Cross Societies of North Viet Nam, South Viet Nam and the National Liberation Front, via the Canadian Friends Service Committee in Toronto. The parcels and checks were blocked by the Treasury and Post Office Departments.

Following this, application was made to the Treasury Department by the New York yearly meeting of the Religious Society of Friends, to export relief supplies to both North and South Viet Nam.

Francis Compter of White Plains, clerk of yearly meeting, and Lee Stern of Nyack, chairman of the yearly meeting 'Committee on Peace in Viet Nam', were then called to Washington for an interview with State and Treasury Department officials.

They reported on this interview to a meeting of the committee on September 15. The interview was most cordial, but they could not accept the standard licensing procedure urged upon them by State and Treasury Department officials which limited relief shipments to one agency, namely the International Red Cross. The two Quakers insisted upon using their Quaker channels as "a step towards getting Quaker relief supplies into North Viet Nam and National Liberation Front territories."

They pointed out that Quakers had traditionally refused to participate in violent conflict but instead had tried to sow the seeds of reconciliation, going to bind up the wounds on both sides.

At the committee meeting last night in New York City, Lee Stern reported that a limited license has been granted to the New York yearly meeting of the Society of Friends to export medical supplies through the Canadian Friends Service Committee to the Red Cross Societies in all the war-torn areas of Viet Nam, whether controlled by North, South or National Liberation Front.

Free conveyance of the medical supplies is being provided by a Russian vessel sailing from Montreal on Oct. 12.

New York yearly meeting of the Religious Society of Friends is working in close cooperation with the American Friends Service Committee, which is the service agency representing Quakers across the nation. The latter body has been trying for more than a year to get relief supplies and Quaker relief workers into both North and South Viet Nam. The license just granted to the New York yearly meeting of the Religious Society of Friends represents a considerable step forward in implementing the Friends' deep religious concern to extend humanitarian relief to all victims of war and violence, irrespective of their political or religious persuasion.

Meanwhile, the American Friends Service Committee continues to explore all means of sending considerably more relief supplies and Quaker relief workers into both North and South Viet Nam.

The particular contribution of Friends in war-torn areas has been especially their concern and efforts towards reconciliation between people. In these terms, their contribution has far exceeded the relatively small relief supplies which they have provided in many parts of the world.

Many non-Quakers acknowledge this, and support financially the work of the American Friends Service Committee.

Serving on both the New York yearly meeting Religious Society of Friends "Peace in Viet Nam Committee," and the Corporation of the American Friends Service Committee, is Diana Geiger, a member of the New Paltz meeting of Religious Society of Friends.

Water Status Better

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — New York State's water resources situation improved somewhat during September, brightening the prospects for late crops.

The U.S. Geological Survey said heavy rainfall over most of the state during the month contributed to generally favorable surface water supplies, except on Long Island and sections of northeastern and south-central counties.

Storms late in the month dumped more than 5 inches on New York City, and 2 to 3 inches in much of the southeastern counties, the area of the greatest deficiencies.

Ground water levels continued to improve, except in the southeastern section of the state.

In Syracuse, directors of the Northeast Dairy Cooperative Federation Inc. reported that the rains revived fall pastures in most of the state.

Corn crops were reported good, improving prospects for increased milk production, directors said.

Recommends School Library

This fact, the committee contends, should concern everyone in the community whose secondary school children and college students depend on the Kingston library. It should concern everyone in the county too, for the absence of an excellent resource deprives all citizens and makes the county less attractive for industry and to those who might wish to settle here.

The small libraries, it was noted, serve a real need for the young child and for popular adult reading, but no attempt should be made to develop major reference and resource centers except in one library in an area.

The committee contends that one obvious location at the present time is Kingston. With better financing and material and consultant help from the Mid-Hudson Libraries System it would be possible to develop the Kingston Library to fulfill these needs.

It was pointed out that certain adjustments to the usual procedure for forming a School District Library will have to be made in the Kingston area and possibly in other areas where more than one library operates within a district. Meetings have already taken place with individual libraries in the Kingston area to discuss library service.

Note Strong Interest

Strong interest has been shown for a joint meeting of the four libraries to take up the possibility of forming a School District Library. The committee hopes that these libraries will initiate such a move.

According to the New York State Education Law, library trustees can request the Board of Education to submit the question of forming a School District Library to the voters. Twenty-five citizens can also make this request. A School District Library is administered by trustees elected from the whole district.

It was noted in the committee report that the Board of Education merely collects the library tax which appears as a separate item on the budget and can be used for no other purpose.

Under the category of Library Services, the Citizens Survey Committee of Ulster County Inc., points out that Ulster County has 19 free public libraries chartered by the State Education Department, the majority of which serve populations under 6,000. These are all members of the Mid-Hudson or Ramapo-Catskill Library System, except for the Pine Hill Library. The three largest libraries are located in Kingston, Ellenville and Woodstock.

Service Inadequate

The report points out that library consultant Robert Ake, director of the Finkelstein Memorial Library, Spring Valley, examining libraries in Ulster County has found library service inadequate to meet today's educational and cultural needs. He points out, as one example, that although the population warrants 16 trained professional librarians, there are only three in Ulster County.

Ake also notes that most of the libraries have inadequate collections and are unable to purchase more than a small percentage of the important books published annually.

Standards used to measure the quality of library service are set by the State Education Department and the American Library Association. These standards measure such factors as per capita collections, circulation, per capita expenditure for books, periodicals, bindings and materials, number of employees and trained professionals, number of new books purchased, proportion of basic collections to rotating collections, number of periodicals and number of hours open.

Need Better Financing

One standard is per capita finance of 3.50 which has been established by New York State Only Cragmoor, Ellenville, Pine Hill, Stone Ridge and Woodstock meet this standard, according to the survey report. All other libraries are in need of better financing.

Three other standards were advanced by Felix Reichman, assistant director of the library at Cornell University, in his report "Library Resources in the Mid-Hudson Valley." A minimum of 10,000 volumes is necessary and three volumes per capita is recommended for communities under 5,000 population; 2½ volumes per capita under 25,000 and two volumes over 25,000.

Libraries that meet the minimum of volumes standard are Cragmoor, Ellenville, New Paltz, Phoenicia, Pine Hill, Saugerties, Stone Ridge, Walkkill, Woodstock, according to Reichman.

The minimum of hours open for a population under 500 is 15 hours; under 1,000 — 20 hours; under 3,000 — 30 hours. These three groups should be open at least four days a week. For communities between 3,000 and 5,000, 40 hours are minimum; between 5,000 and 10,000—50 hours and between 10,000 and 25,000—60 hours. These groups should be open five days a week.

Cite Stone Ridge Library

Stone Ridge is the only library that meets the criteria for number of hours open. Ellenville meets 80 per cent of this requirement; Kingston meets 90 per cent of this standard.

Ake, who is consultant to the survey committee, points out that there are only three professionals at area libraries. The committee has located them at Kingston and Ellenville.

Reichman's report lists six recommendations for public libraries which point up the trend for libraries in the Mid-Hudson Valley.

They are:

That small localities that are not able to finance efficient library service be persuaded to give up their small local libraries and contract with a larger library for more efficient service.

That not the slightest loss of local control be effected until the individuals concerned are psychologically ready to transfer their allegiance from a small local operation to a larger one.

Will Retain Control

That any, even the smallest, loss of local control be compensated by giving representatives of the individual localities a voice in the executive board of the over-all organization.

That every effort be made to induce the authorities to raise the tax support for libraries to at least the minimum standard of $3.50 and if possible $4 per capita.

Need New Ideas

The survey shows that library support by municipalities over the years has not increased proportionally with growing needs and higher costs. The needs of library users today far exceed previous demands. New ideas, new technology, the increase in students, adult education, job retraining, the need to understand other cultures and governments, all must be considered when stocking the modern library, it was noted.

School Libraries are a Vital Part of the Curriculum, but the library must provide a wider choice of material and remain open when schools close, the report recommended. By combining library service in larger geographical units, many advantages could be realized such as economy, better coverage of subjects and services, and accessibility.

Democrats to Open Headquarters Tonight

The Democratic Club of New Paltz announces the official opening of its 1966 election campaign headquarters on North Chestnut Street, next to the Post Office. A reception for the residents of the district will be held today at 8:30 p. m. Local candidates and the officers of the Democratic Club will be present to meet with the voters and answer questions. Refreshments will be served, and every one is welcome.

John Schreiber, chairman of the Democratic Party of New Paltz and Gary Kitzman, president of the Democratic Club, also announce that plans for a dinner honoring Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick and other candidates on the Democratic ticket are now being formulated. This event will take place on Sunday, Oct. 16 at the American Legion Hall, Route 32. Congressman Resnick will be present on this occasion and will deliver a keynote address. Further details will be announced in the near future.

Raise in Mailed Ads

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Advertising by mail is expanding because it is an effective way of selling, says John Daly, representative of the Direct Mail Advertising Association.

Daly told the National Association of Postmasters that advertisers spend about $4.2 billion annually to mail their messages. He said this brings them in about $30 billion in sales.

Mediation Team Enters GE-IUE Contract Rift

NEW YORK (AP) — A three-man team from the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service has entered the dispute between the General Electric Co. and the largest union of GE employees amid speculation that a threatened strike could curtail some vital defense work.

Some of the company's plants are doing electronic work on jet engines for the Defense Department.

Contracts between GE and some of the 100 unions of its employees expire Sunday midnight. Meanwhile, negotiations between GE and several of the large unions continue here today.

The mediation team, which arrived here Thursday, is headed by William Simkin, director of the service. Simkin spoke with negotiators for GE and the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE), which represents 79,400 workers and is the largest of the GE unions. The IUE is joined in its bargaining by representatives of 10 other unions in a common front called the AFL-CIO Committee on Collective Bargaining (CCB).

Locals of the 11-union group across the nation have unanimously rejected GE's offer for new contracts to replace the ones expiring Sunday midnight.

Levitt Notes Concern On Interest Rates

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. (AP) — State Comptroller Arthur Levitt says that rising interest rates could steer the municipal bond market onto a "collision course" with the fiscal provisions of state law.

"I am deeply concerned when I view the developing situation in other states where statutory limits have already prevented sale of government obligations," he said.

The Democratic state officer's remarks were contained in a speech read for him by Deputy Comptroller Arthur W. Hight at a training school for local fiscal officers.

Levitt pointed out that the law sets a ceiling of five per cent on the amount of interest that may be paid on tax-exempt obligations.

He said, however, that certain local housing authorities, including New York City's, have virtually reached the five per cent maximum.

Levitt was to have flown to the meeting here but adverse weather conditions prevented the trip.

Parade to Open Chest Campaign; Goal Is $16,500

The annual Ulster County Community Chest fund campaign in Saugerties starts Saturday under the leadership of village Mayor Cornelius Cox, chairman. Mayor Cox has recruited a number of volunteers to begin work Saturday and hopes to give everyone in the township an opportunity to donate by Oct. 15.

The goal for the township is $16,500, of this amount $10,000 is the goal for the Ferroxcube Corp.

The 13 agencies supported by the Community Chest benefit everyone in the township of Saugerties although one or two are not located in Saugerties. They provide direct services and contribute to the development of youth which reduces juvenile delinquency and, therefore, substantially contribute to the reduction of the tax dollar for control and discipline. Saugerties has been in the Chest since 1962 and has been an active supporter. The YMCA is presently extending its program into the Saugerties area, another indication of the many services available. The Salvation Army Unit is part of the Chest again this year.

The Community Chest parade Saturday will start from John Street at the American Legion building. Each of the 13 agencies will have a float representing their services and balloons will be distributed to children along the way. The Saugerties High School band and the Junior Chamber of Commerce will also participate. The parade route will be John Street, Lafayette Street, Market Street, Main Street, Partition Street to Hill Street, to Kingston Road to Simmons Plaza.

All residents of Saugerties are invited to the Chest show and fireworks display at Dietz Stadium in Kingston at 8 p. m. Entertainment acts and a shower of prizes will highlight the official kickoff fund campaign.

The 13 agencies of the Ulster County Community Chest are: Boys Club, Boy Scouts, Cerebral Palsy, Gateway Industries, Girl Scouts, Jewish Center, Mental Health, Red Cross, Retarded Children, Salvation Army, YMCA, YWCA, and USO. The Community Chest area consists of the City of Kingston and the towns of Esopus, Hurley, Kingston, Marlborough, New Paltz, Rosendale, Saugerties and Ulster.

Cub Pack Meeting

Cub Scout Pack 130 will hold its first meeting of the season tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the Trinity Church, Saugerties. Parents who are interested in having their youngsters participate in Cub Scout activities are invited to attend, and bring the potential

Lions Club Hears United Way Talk

Samuel Fratoní spoke on the 1966-67 Community Chest drive and Ernest Myers, zone chairman of Lions International, congratulated the Saugerties Lions Club on last year's activities and this year's projected programs at this week's meeting of the local club.

Fratoní told those attending that by donating to the Community Chest, an individual is giving to the United Way. A single contribution, he said, helps to sponsor such worthy organizations as Boys Club, Boy Scouts, Cerebral Palsy, Gateway Industries, Girl Scouts, Red Cross, USO, Association for Retarded Children and others.

Club president Stuart Buchan noted that the summer cook-out committee had turned over a sizeable sum of money to the club for use in civic projects. This profit, he said, was realized from careful budgeting and ordering of food supplies for the cook-out affairs during the recent summer.

Special Program
Frank Costello, chairman of the "Dorothy Carnegie Ladies Public Speaking Course," noted that the regular meeting will not be held Dec. 24. Instead members are urged to bring wives and guest couples to a program at the Main Street School auditorium, at which a Carnegie representative will speak on the unique course. Costello said local Lions will benefit financially from attendance numbers at this program, without any obligation on the part of those attending to sign up for the speaking course. Refreshments will be provided at the auditorium.

In other business, the president reported a visit here by the District Governor on Oct. 31, and Joseph Bosco, membership committee chairman, announced that Mickey Walker, former light heavyweight boxing champion of the world, will be guest speaker at the Oct. 17 dinner meeting. This meeting will terminate the membership drive and new members inducted into the club since last June's installation, will be formally installed and presented with the club insignia.

Local judges for the Lions International Peace Essay Contest will be announced next week. The contest committee here is headed by Stuart Buchan, club president, and William D. Brinnier, past president.

Congregational Notes Activities

Church school classes at First Congregational Church, Saugerties, for all age groups meet at 10 a. m. each Sunday. Visitors and new members are cordially invited to attend.

Morning service for worship and prayer is at 11 a. m. Sermon topic for Oct. 2 is By His Stripes We Are Healed. Visitors are always welcome. The Lord's Supper will also be shared Sunday.

The minister has contacted a number of church officers to secure permission for a troop of Brownies to use church rooms as a meeting place for the winter months. Permission was granted and they meet here this Wednesday evening.

Choir will meet for practice every Tuesday at 7 p. m. Several girls who have strong soprano voices are needed.

The autumn rummage sale will be held Oct. 6-7-8 in the church building.

The turkey dinner will be on Oct. 29. Tickets are now available from Mrs. Walker.

Rally Day will be observed in the church on Oct. 16 instead of Oct. 9 as previously stated.

Men of the church are now working three or four nights a week on the parsonage to ready it for occupancy. Anyone having any time to donate on any evening or on Saturday will find jobs both great and small to do. Thanks go to George Holmes for the loan of his truck twice last week for work at the parsonage.

Krumville

KRUMVILLE — Mr. and Mrs. Carl Anderson are spending a few weeks in New York with their family.

The Ladies Society held its meeting at the home of Mrs. Alex M. Clemans Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Miller and family spent the weekend at their camp here.

The annual meeting of the Krumville Cemetery Association will be held at the church Friday, Oct. 7 at 7:30 p. m.

Cub along. Boys must have reached the age of eight in order to be eligible.

Pack 130 is also seeking women interested in working with boys as Den Mothers. Anyone who is 21 years of age or older is urged to apply. For further information, call Cubmaster Richard Cyr or Edward Hillje, committee chairman.

Earnings Up 47 PC

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — Taylor Instrument Co. says its earnings increased 47 per cent and its sales were up 14 per cent in the fiscal year ended July 31.

The Rochester firm reported Thursday that earnings totaled $3.6 million, or $2.39 a share, compared with $2.4 million, or $1.42 a share, in the previous fiscal year. Sales totaled $61.8 million, up from $54.2 million a year ago.

Before he became a professional fighter and later world heavyweight boxing champion, James G. (Gentleman Jim) Corbett was a bank teller.

People* who demand Safe home heating insist on safe OIL HEAT *and that includes the majority of prudent Hudson Valley homeowners . . .

Precious things come in little bundles. And grown-up sizes, too. That's why peace-of-mind security calls for careful choice of the fuel you depend upon to heat your home. One thing certain: There's no gamble with safe Oil Heat. A flaming torch plunged into an open container of modern distillate heating oil will be immediately extinguished. Only when properly atomized, in precision-engineered equipment, does this security heating fuel release its comfort-giving warmth.

No wonder most Hudson Valley families choose Oil Heat's dependable safety . . . for the very best reasons in the world. Shouldn't you, too?

You Know You're Safe — You Know You Save — With Oil Heat!

Here's a down-to-earth, no-argument way to compare oil heat with one utility fuel: If you were to heat your home electrically, at prevailing rates of 1½¢ per KWH, for example, that would be equivalent—in terms of what you could spend for the same amount of heat, with oil — to 48.9¢-per-gallon fuel oil! But everyone knows that oil only costs you about one-third of that!

Electric Resistance Heating at:	Is Equivalent to #2 Fuel Oil Costing This Much:
2.8¢ per Kilowatt Hour	65.2¢ per Gallon
1.9¢ per Kilowatt Hour	50.8¢ per Gallon
1.5¢ per Kilowatt Hour	40.9¢ per Gallon
1.3¢ per Kilowatt Hour	42.4¢ per Gallon
1.0¢ per Kilowatt Hour	32.8¢ per Gallon

Two Persons Hurt, Youth Cited After Ulster Accident

Two persons were injured and a Kingston youth was cited by State Police for driving too closely as the result of a two-car rear-end collision which occurred at 3:25 p. m. Thursday on Route 9W about a quarter-mile south of Route 209, Town of Ulster.

The cars were driven by John Tappen, 62, of Albany, and Richard Savino, 20, of 246 Elmendorf Street, city. Savino is scheduled to appear before Justice of the Peace Arthur A. Relly on the traffic violation lodged by Troop Norman Kilfoyle.

Trooper Thomas Seales reported Tappen was driving north at a slow rate of speed and Savino was following when the accident occurred. Savino was taken to Kingston Hospital and

Spain to Make 1st Space Probe Oct. 15

MADRID (AP) — Spain will make its first probe into outer space Oct. 15 with the firing of a British-designed Skua rocket from a pad at Camp Arenosillo, officials said today.

The launching site is on the Atlantic Coast. Spain belongs to Space Investigation and expects to fire a series of Skua and American Judy Dart missiles on suborbital scientific missions, officials said.

Wrathful Words

Buy N.Y. Wine, Boycott France Stratton Urges

WASHINGTON (AP)—Wrathful words have spilled from Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D-N.Y., to France, its president and its vineyards.

The U.S. congressman proposed Thursday that Americans at home buy wine produced in New York State and those going abroad boycott the country of France.

Stratton explains that by so doing Americans can help stem the flow of gold to France and ease the United States' balance-of-payments problem.

In his House speech, Stratton also was critical of French President Charles de Gaulle.

Because of de Gaulle, Stratton said, the French have tried to upset the common defense posture of NATO, have sided with North Viet Nam and have "engaged in a bold and impudent assault on the American dollar."

He said France demands payment in U.S. gold for "every single dollar she can get her hands on and we can no longer afford to ignore the hatchet job Gen. de Gaulle is trying to do to our economy."

As for the wine, Stratton, whose district includes acres of vineyards, said that "New York State produces some of the finest wines and champagnes in the world. New York State wine is as good as French wine, probably better."

Referring to American citizens visiting France, the representative from Amsterdam suggested that if tourists will not in Congress might even put voluntarily avoid spending their dollars in France, "perhaps we

Ruby Cubs Note Gold Rush Theme At Pack Meeting

Gold Rush Days and the 49ers was the theme of the September meeting of Cub Pack 10, which took place in the Ruby Rod and Gun Club.

On hand for the activities was a home made mule named Jack. Two covered wagons of the type used by the 49ers were also on display. Den 2 led in the opening exercise, the pledge of allegiance to the flag. Their home made flag showed 30 stars, representing the number of states in the Union during the Gold Rush Days.

Moving outside, the Cub Scouts had Gold Rush hunt of their own and witnessed the crossing of the bridge from Cub to Boy Scouting by Jack Hill and Ted Pfeffer. This ceremony was conducted around the campfire by Cubmaster Charles Fowler and Scoutmaster Carlton Deyo, who welcomed the boys into Boy Scout Troop 10.

Advancements and awards were made by Fowler. The following boys became Bobcats: Kent Krajcek, Michael Krajcek, David Smith, John Siphers, Jerry Lieberman, and Danny Sainsbury. Ronny McDowell received his Wolf Badge, and a Gold Arrow. Three silver arrows were presented to William Aumann and Tim Chase received five silver arrows.

Membership cards were given to Wayne Vasilevich, Brian Baird, Robert Elliott, Bruce Kirkpatrick, Ronny McDowell, William Wynkoop, Bart Farley, 4.

Howard Williams, George Glass, and Chuck Harding. Jim Maher, Wayne Vasilevich, and Kevin McCooley received their Bear books. Kevin McCooley and Michael McFadden were declared winners in the Pinewood Derby held at the family picnic and received their award.

It was announced the boys of the pack would participate in a bus trip to Stewart Field Air Base, Newburgh, on Saturday, Oct. 1.

Deyo led the closing exercise with an appropriate song, Home on the Range, and refreshments were served by mothers of Den

Abstentions Mark Voting; Lottery Support Defeated

Several abstentions from voting marked Ontario Board of Education approval of faculty and substitute appointments at the recent meeting of the board. Upon the recommendation of Dr. George R. Sullivan, superintendent of schools, the following staff appointments, effective Sept. 1, were made as trustee Philip Gordon abstained from voting:

Mary T. Jacobs, secondary English, a salary of $5,850; Carl D. Brown, director of adult education, at an annual salary of $5,000; and Linda Sleight, elementary Art teacher for three days per week at West Hurley School, at $6,100, prorated.

Abstains Again

Gordon again abstained from voting as the Board moved for and carried the recommendation of the following personnel under the Federal aided program ESEA Title I:

Joan Emmi, helping teacher at Woodstock, $15.28 per one-half day; Davis Gage, high school teacher, $6,590; Sonia Gordon, helping teacher at Phenicia, $18.34 per one-half day; Renata Kay, helping teacher at Bennett for three days at $3,870; David Locascio, high school coordinator, $500; and Fleurette Myers, Woodstock helping teacher, at $18.75 per one-half day.

The ESEA Title I vote also included the following non-teaching personnel as clerical aides and on this tie-in, Gordon also abstained:

EOA Personnel

On a vote to approve personnel to work under the Education Opportunity Act program for the remainder of the year at $1.50 each per hour, it was Trustee

Robert Nussbaum's turn to abstain. Four persons were approved, however, including Joan Hansen for Bennett and Phenicia Schools; Joyce Nussbaum for Woodstock and West Hurley Schools; Linda Bresadola for the High School; and Paul Dutcher to the custodial staff.

The abstentions, in some cases, were obviously due to the fact that relatives of the two trustees were involved in the recommendations.

No such personal problems were encountered in appointing non-teaching personnel and the following were approved unanimously:

Harold Hemeon as bus driver-custodian, at $3,800, effective Sept. 8 and subject to receipt of Class II license no later than Oct. 10.

Dorothy Borden, full-time cafeteria worker, at $2,000, effective Sept. 14.

Defeat Lottery Support

In other Board business, Woodstock Trustee Richard Langham's motion that the Ontario delegate to the New York State School Boards Association's conference be instructed to support the proposed State lottery, went down to defeat. Although his motion received a second, the vote on this lottery support was defeated by a vote of 6-3.

Trustee Herbert Epstein then moved that the conference delegate from OCS vote for the opposition of a lottery in the State. This motion was carried by a vote of 6-3.

The Board also voted to hold a public hearing on Monday, Nov. 14, at 8 p. m. in the Central Building, Boiceville, to discuss the tax exemption law. Area organizations will be contacted; asked to attend and take a stand on this matter.

Wants Psychologist

Through Robert Braun, of the Bennett School P-TA, the Board received thanks for the "many fine services it has and does provide the children in the district." Braun requested, however, that a school psychologist be provided on a full-time basis and that trustees consider the continuation of the Summer Reading Program and allocate sufficient funds specifically for this purpose.

The Board also met in workshop session recently to discuss administration salaries to conform with the new Principals Salary Law. The next regular Board meeting is scheduled for Oct. 17 at 8 p. m.

Bearsville Lodge Hosts Assembly President Here

The official visit of Mrs. Florence R. Burns, president of the New York State Rebekah Assembly, was made to Ulster District on Monday evening. A roast turkey dinner was served at Deanie's Restaurant here, followed by a meeting at the Bearsville Odd Fellows Hall, conducted by District Deputy President, Mrs. Olive M. Shultis of Ulster District and the Bearsville Lodge.

Mrs. Burns brought an inspiring message to all members present. Noble Grands and Vice Grands of the District and the staff of the District Deputy President gave a floral degree "In the Garden" to honor Mrs. Burns. A gift was also presented to her and other gifts were presented to all honored guests.

Guests attending the meeting were Assembly warden, Mrs. Elizabeth Dunlap; Assembly chaplain, Mrs. Doris Osborne; Assembly color bearer, Mrs. Isabella Van Dewerker; Assembly right herald, Mrs. Mildred Schmelz; Assembly left herald, Mrs. Frances Johnson; past presidents, Mrs. Carrie Hazelton and Mrs. Bertha Mulford; past president, L.A.P.M. Mrs. Velma Clearwater; past assembly chaplain, Mrs. Jennie Pond.

Also past Assembly musician, Miss Florence Gippert; past Assembly left herald, Mrs. Viva Davis; past Assembly right herald, Mrs. Lillian Wallwork; District deputy presidents, Mrs. Elizabeth Collins of Greene District and Mrs. Vera Berashy of Dutchess District 1 and members of each staff.

Members were also present from Kingston, Saugerties, West Saugerties, Highland, Olivebridge, Phenicia, Coxsackie, Hunter and Bearsville. Miss Gail Adams, past president, Theta Rho Assembly, attended the dinner but was unable to attend the meeting.

During the program, there was a solo by Mrs. Elsie Secor of Olive Rebekah Lodge; a reading by Miss Mildred Gippert of Queen Ulster Rebekah Lodge; a solo by Miss Mary Van Steenburgh of Tiskilwa Rebekah

Note OSC Construction Work; Board Accepts Resignations

Construction and its progress concerned the Ontario Board of Education at its meeting last week. Members heard Trustee Herbert Epstein report that all major alterations were completed on time in the 10 half-size classrooms for the opening of school recently. At the present time, he said, masons are brick-ing up outside of the existing gym windows and excavation is continuing behind the library and gym.

Epstein also said electricians are working on primary service and plumbers are placing 15-inch cast iron storm drains under classrooms. Contractors are moving rapidly toward enclosing one or more additions prior to the winter season.

Epstein noted that, along with Dr. George R. Sullivan, superintendent of schools, Ralph C. Breakell, district clerk, and James Rourke, State Education Department investment consultant, he had visited the New York City bonding attorneys this month to arrange for the early sale of bonds needed for construction.

The Board has acknowledged receipt of final approval of plans and specifications for the proposed high school addition and alterations at Boiceville from the State Education Department as of last August.

Transportation Bids

Transportation matters also concerned the Board last week. Allen Schelkens' request for withdrawal from low transportation bid on Route No. F1 was approved with the stipulation that he be required to pay all costs on rebidding this route.

To Hold Bake Sale For MD Children

The Muscular Dystrophy Chapter in this area will hold a bake sale Saturday, Oct. 8, beginning at 9 a. m., at the A&P supermarket in Woodstock's Bradley Meadows Shopping Center. The sale will continue throughout the day until all items are sold.

The committee in charge hopes for donations of cakes, pies, cookies, cupcakes and fudge. Anyone wishing to donate her baking specialty in the Town of Olive is asked to call Doris Hanson, who will also be happy to arrange for pickup. Woodstockers may call Mrs. Kenneth Osterhoudt or contact Mrs. Hanson at the offices of the Ulster County Tomnsmen.

Here's a chance to purchase a delicious homemade dessert at A&P on Oct. 8 and help aid the 13 youngsters in this immediate area who suffer from muscular dystrophy.

Christian Science Notes Services

"The things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal." This well-known verse from II Corinthians will be the Golden Text of the lesson-sermon titled "Unreality" to be read in Woodstock's Christian Science Church this Sunday.

From the denominational textbook, "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, the following correlative passage will be quoted: "Befogged in error (the error of believing that matter can be

Kenneth Herdman was awarded contract for Route No. F1 in the amount of $2,100 for the current school year, and the following transportation extensions for the year, due to new students in the areas, were approved:

Lakeview Transit, Inc.—Route 20 in part, $300; Route 26, $211; Route 28 in part, $314; Garvin Russell—Route 35, $80; Esther Wilson—Route F4, $196; and Safeway School System—Route 42, $220.

Trustee Herbert Epstein was appointed as alternate delegate to the New York State School Boards Association conference to replace Philip Gordon, who may be unable to attend.

Mrs. Barringer Resigns

The recent meeting also saw the acceptance of the following resignations:

Mrs. Betty Jane Barringer, cafeteria manager; Lester Barringer, part-time cafeteria driver-cleaner; Mildred Nicholson, cook manager; and James Rose, driver-custodian, all effective Sept. 9 of this year. Also: Katherine Amendola, part-time cafeteria worker, effective Sept. 8; Virginia Fuchs, part-time cafeteria worker, effective Sept. 30; and Stanley Haug, auditor, effective last Aug. 30.

The Board approved and filed the list of bus drivers and substitute bus drivers for the current school year and approved the schedules of bills and the clerk's and treasurer's reports for August. Major bills considered included $14,645.88 and $89,357.17 in the general fund; $1,497.87, $5,930.72 and $687.43 under ESEA Title I and II; $1,961 for the school lunch fund; and construction bills in the amounts of $3,823.79, $200 and $2,777.85.

Ladies Auxiliary Planning Supper

Items on the agenda of the monthly meeting of Woodstock Fire Co. No. 3 Ladies Auxiliary included a family supper, bus trip and merchandise party.

Mrs. Connie McCleary returned to active membership in the Auxiliary.

The family "pot-luck" supper will be held at the firehouse in Lake Hill on Saturday, Oct. 22 at 6:30 p. m. The supper is open to the families of all active firemen and all active Auxiliary members. This is one of a series of such events that have been sponsored by the Auxiliary.

The annual bus trip to New York City during the Christmas holidays is scheduled for Saturday, Dec. 10. Reservations for this trip will be accepted by members of the organization, with details as to time and place of departure to be announced.

Plans for a merchandise party were made for some time in October, with details to be announced. Members of the Auxiliary are now collecting dues for the current year. Ladies of the communities of Willow, Lake Hill and Shady are welcome to join the organization which meets on the last Tuesday of each month at the firehouse in Lake Hill.

Freberg Needles Reagan, Brown; Banned From Air

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Puckish Stan Freberg is feeling good these days. The reason: He has been banned again.

"Extremism in the pursuit of comedy is no vice," said Freberg, who wears the perennial air of a small-town kid who has just dumped a box of detergent in the city hall fountain.

Radio stations in San Francisco and elsewhere have put the thumbs-down on plays of a selection from the latest Freberg album on Capitol, "Freberg Underground." It features a fantasy called "Reagan meets Flackman," which the stations apparently consider to be sensitive to play during the gubernatorial campaign in California.

Spot on Reagan

The action features an actor turned politico, boldly identified as Ronnie Reagan, who is advised by his publicity man to shield his former connection with show business. But on a "Meet the Press" show Reagan gives the wrong answers to a questioner:

Q. What about the unrest at Berkeley?

A. As far back as "naughty but nice" and right up to "she's working her way through college," I had first-hand knowledge of student problems of one sort or another. I straightened out Betty Grable in that one. Of course it's important that a governor has a sense of humor, too. Did you catch me in "Bedtime for Bonzo"?

Q. "Bedtime for Bonzo"? These are violent times, Mr. Reagan. How are you equipped to handle a major crisis?

A. In "King's Row" I lost both my legs! How's that for a crisis, lady?

Brown Hit Too

Reagan doesn't get all the lumps from Freberg, whose approach to the campaign is more of a sledge-hammer rather than a stiletto technique. He depicts incumbent Edmund G. Brown as an unsmiling drudge who explains: "You'd look crabby too, if you were governor of a state full of kooks like this one."

At his baronial office on the Sunset Strip, Freberg admitted that he leaned toward Brown in

Bohan's Vessel, Belfast Mayor Exchange Gifts

When the U.S.S. "Nantahala" Fleet oil tanker, paid a visit to Ireland in August, Captain Norman C. Bohan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bohan of Ulster Park, and his officers were guests of Mayor Alderman R. V. Campbell of Belfast at which time the mayor presented Capt. Bohan with a plaque of the Borough coat-of-arms. In return Capt. Bohan presented the Borough the ship's standard.

The exchange of gifts was recorded in the Aug. 29 issue of the Belfast, Ireland Telegram. The ceremony took place at the Bangor Town Hall.

Captain Bohan believes his family originally came from that area of Ulster.

Captain Bohan's home port is in Newport, R. I., where his ship is presently based. It is scheduled to return to sea again shortly. Captain Bohan and his family reside at Newport, R. I. Two of his sons are presently attending college. David is a student at the University of Virginia, and Michael is at the N.Y. Maritime College, Kings Point. Mrs. Bohan is the former Frances Stour of Kingston.

Union Center

The regular meeting of the Civic Group has been changed to the second Tuesday of the month. The next meeting will be held Oct. 11 at 8 p. m. At the meeting Mrs. William Daum will show slides of her family's 1965 trip across parts of the United States.

Wilson Asks All to Register For Election November 8

Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, the Ulster County Republican Chairman, urged today that every person qualified to vote in this year's election should find out if they are registered to vote, and if they are not to make plans to register sometime during the coming registration days.

Wilson said that central registration at the Ulster County Board of Elections is now over, registered must do so to be able to take part in the election, Nov. 8.

The Republican chairman said that every person residing in the City of Kingston who did not take advantage of central registration this year must register during the next two weeks in order to be able to vote this November.

In Kingston all of the regular polling places will be open for registration from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. on Friday, Oct. 7, Saturday, Oct. 8 and again on Friday, October 14. Wilson said that all of the polls will also be open on Saturday, Oct. 15, but that the hours for that day will be from 7 a. m. to 10 p. m.

Chairman Wilson said voters who live outside the City of Kingston must also register this year if they have not voted in a general election during the past four years, or if they have not already registered under central registration. All polling places outside of the City of Kingston will be open for registration from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. on Saturday, Oct. 8 and from 1 p. m. to 10 p. m. on Saturday, Oct. 15.

The importance of this year's election was stressed by the Ulster County Board of Elections, who pointed out that voters will be going to the polls this year to select candidates at every level of government. Chairman Wilson said that the voters of Ulster County will be deciding on who will be their next Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Attorney General, and Comptroller, as well as their next Congressman, State Senator, Assemblyman, County Clerk and Coroner. Wilson further pointed out that the voters will also be called upon to select the delegates who will be representing the interests of this area at Next year's Constitutional Convention, as well as deciding upon the 12 state-wide questions which will appear on the ballot.

TODAY IN HISTORY

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday Sept. 30, the 273rd day of 1966. There are 92 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1954, the Navy submarine "Nautilus," the first atomic powered vessel in the United States, was commissioned.

On this date in 1787, an American vessel, for the first time, sailed on a voyage around the world.

In 1842, ether was introduced as an anesthetic in surgery.

In 1882, the first hydroelectric power station in the United States was opened at Appleton, Wis.

In 1906, electric locomotives were placed in service on the New York Central Railroad.

Ten years ago—It was reported in Washington that President Eisenhower was planning to order United States aid to Yugoslavia continued despite Yugoslav President Tito's increased friendliness with Moscow.

Five years ago — President Kennedy signed appropriations bills totaling more than $9 billion for foreign aid, the Peace Corps, public works and other federal programs.

One year ago—An all white jury in Alabama acquitted a special deputy in the slaying of a white New England seminarian who had been working with civil rights groups in the state.

Agree on Return Of Argentines In Hijack Plane

By OSCAR SERRAT

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—The Argentine government and the British ambassador agreed in principle Thursday night on the return of 48 Argentine citizens aboard an airliner which Argentine nationalists hijacked and forced to land in Britain's Falkland Islands.

Foreign Undersecretary Jorge Mazzinghi announced the tentative agreement after a meeting with Ambassador Michael J. Creswell. Mazzinghi gave no details but said the British government's approval was awaited.

Reports from Rio Gallegos, on the mainland across from the disputed islands, said several Argentine military planes had arrived there with a platoon of police.

It was believed the police would arrest the 18 hijackers on their return to the mainland.

President Juan Carlos Onganía said Thursday the hijackers would be put on trial. He disowned the raiders who said they wanted to occupy the islands for Argentina. Onganía said their action had damaged the country's international prestige, but he reasserted his country's claim to the Falklands.

The young hijackers, led by an attractive 27-year-old blonde, seized the four-engine Argentine plane Wednesday and forced it to land on a race track at Port Stanley, capital of the Falklands. British officials took them under control, and there was no violence.

Hospital Costs Hike

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The state health commissioner says hospital costs can be expected to increase as much as 20 per cent to 30 per cent in the coming year.

Dr. Hollis S. Ingraham, speaking at a regional meeting of county medical societies here Thursday, attributed the sharp increase in hospital costs to increased wages, drug costs, inflation and new equipment.

The commissioner said that the national average cost for a semi-private room may increase to about $57 to $60 per day from its present rate of $47.50.

Medical aid and Medicare also would add to the increase, Ingraham said, but would have only a slight effect.

GOVERNOR PROCLAIMS COMMUNITY CHEST WEEK—Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller presents draft of his proclamation designating Oct. 1 through 7 as Community Chest-United Fund Week in New York State to Wilfred S. Springer, executive director of the Ulster County Community Chest. In the proclamation, the governor terms the chest "one great public project to which I am particularly happy to give my wholehearted support. . . I urge that when the Red Feather Volunteer comes to your door (we all) have our latchstring out and our purse-strings ready." According to Springer and other local officials, the Kingston area fund drive will be kicked off by parades starting at Kingston High School Field House at 10:45 a. m. Saturday. Passing through area towns during the day, the parade will march through Kingston at 7 p. m.

Ulster Community Chest Report Given Rotary Club

Public Relations Chairman for the Ulster County Community Chest gave a status report at the regular Wednesday Rotary Club meeting.

He addressed the group as mom and dad. Since the Chest concept was conceived by the Rotary and other service clubs 11 years ago. This was then a report by their 11 year old child to his parents on how things were going. In general, the Chest is only doing fair since it has never raised its fund campaign goal. The 13 agencies have been on starvation diets and the situation is serious. The problem seems to be the difficulty of having residents give a fair share for all agencies or 13 times the amount they would give to one agency. Another significant reason is the difficulty of recruiting enough good campaign workers and having them do an effective job of soliciting for funds. Also, far too many employers do not permit in-plant solicitation of employees and provide for their employees payroll deductions.

Goal of $299,600

Fratoni reported the present campaign is seeking to raise $299,600, for operating expenses for the 13 agencies in 1967. This total is the basic need not an artificially set goal. The Chest budget committee has reviewed all 1967 agency budgets and eliminated where possible. The $299,600 is the total sum of these needs.

He further stated how fortunate the Chest was as strong dynamic team of Charles E. Raible and George W. Tamke have accepted the challenge to raise this needed goal. Tremendous drive and enthusiasm has been developed in the campaign to date. The organization has been formed to start the general campaign on October 1st. Parades, free shows and fireworks will feature the kickoff on Saturday, October 1.

Analysis Giving

Fratoni then reviewed the analysis giving to show the hidden potential in Ulster County and how it is hoped to raise the needed funds. A comparison of local giving to that of other communities reveals Ulster County is much lower in all groups.

Of 90 corporate accounts 34 give above the national average of $6 per employee and 56 are below with 15 giving no dollars.

Of 93 employee accounts 13 give the national average of $8.37 per employee and 80 are below with 45 giving no dollars.

Of 8 banks accounts 5 are above the national average of $40 per employee.

Of 76 attorneys only 29 give above the national average of $50. 29 are below with 31 giving no dollars.

Of 62 physicians, 12 are above the $71 national average. 50 below with 23 giving no dollars.

Of 372 small businesses 108 give above the national average of $12 and 264 are below with 91 giving no dollars.

Of 887 county and city employees the average gift per employee was 91 cents vs. national average of $3.71.

Of 728 hospital employees the average gift per employee was $1.89 vs. $5.24 national average.

Of 720 school system employees was $4.37 vs. $9.07 the national average.

Fratoni stated this poor record of giving was a two fold problem. A failure to conduct an effective campaign and failure of people to respond and recognize the need for 13 gifts in one.

He reviewed the numerous publicity activities for this year's campaign as a first step to accomplish this year's goal. He expressed confidence that the campaign workers are doing an effective solicitation of everyone in the Chest area. If everyone who is paid an hourly basis gave $1 per agency or 25c per week and all businesses and salaried workers gave 1/2 of one percent or one day's pay, then the $299,600 can be easily obtained.

Fratoni asked each Rotarian to give generously in his personal gift, to help in the campaign where he can and if they are business men to permit a solicitation of their employees and provide payroll deductions.

Heresy Charged To Bishop Pike

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Auxiliary Bishop James A. Pike of California has been charged with heresy by the Rt. Rev. Henry I. Lottitt, bishop of south Florida.

Bishop Pike—cleared of heresy charges three times since 1961—was asked by Bishop Lottitt to renounce the Episcopal ministry or stand trial before a Church court. Bishop Lottitt charged Bishop Pike with violating ordination vows and committing heretical acts.

Bishop Lottitt said he had received backing from bishops in Albany, N.Y.; Long Island, N.Y.; Tennessee; Montana; Georgia; Dallas, Tex.; Upper South Carolina; Kentucky; and northern California.

Bishop Pike was unavailable for comment.

Rule Pneumonia Killed Korean Infant in Area

HUDSON, N. Y. (AP)—A coroner has ruled that pneumonia killed a 20-month-old Korean girl last week while she was enroute to her new home in the nearby Town of Greenport.

A Columbia County coroner issued that verdict Thursday in the death Sept. 22 of Sung Sek Chun, who had been adopted by Mr. and Mrs. William Sorkey.

The Sorkeys, who had waited two years to adopt the infant, met Chun and another Korean adoptee, 22-month-old Michael, at Kennedy Airport in New York City.

Michael has not been ill.

Still Split on Authority

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate and House still don't agree on how much additional authority the President should have to call up military reserves.

Their dispute sent the $58-billion defense appropriation bill back toward a House-Senate conference after the Senate rejected it Thursday because the House-passed compromise left out the reserves question.

The Senate's reserves plan was tacked onto the money bill but the House turned it down and passed its own reserves measure as a separate bill.

Body of Missing Man Recovered From Creek Here

A body found in the Rondout Creek off The Freeman parking lot this morning was identified as that of Ronald J. Walton, 34, of 11 Wurts Street, who had been reported missing since Sept. 23.

Coroner William S. Keyser said he was withholding his verdict until completion of an autopsy due to be performed this afternoon. He could not tell, he said, how long the body had been in the water until results of the autopsy are known, but it appeared it had been in for some time.

John L. Schrader, of 46 Esopus Avenue a Freeman employee, first saw the body some 35 feet out in the water shortly after 9 a. m. He was not sure at first whether it was a body and contacted Chester Beesmer, of 493

Wilbur Avenue, a fellow employee, and when they decided that it was apparently the body of a man, a call to police headquarters was made from The Freeman by Douglas C. Craddock, of Hurley, classified advertising manager.

On the desk at police headquarters Officer Weston Haffay dispatched Officers Raymond Wells, Duncan Greene and Thomas Coffey along with Detective Gurnsey Burger to the creek.

The officers reported the body too far off shore to reach it without a boat or other assistance. The fire department was notified and sent a truck with firemen John Berardi and Frank Ostrander and Deputy Chief Glyn M. Southard in charge. The body was too far out for shore action by firemen.

Officer Wells went to the Dwyer Boat Basin and there contacted Anthony Fontana, Route 28, Ashokan, who went downstream in a cruise and assisted the police in bringing the body ashore.

Police said the body was identified by his brother, Everett, also a Freeman employee.

Funeral arrangements to be made by the W. N. Conner Funeral Home Inc., are to be announced.

In the SERVICE

Is Commissioned

Roger E. Egdorf, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald F. Egdorf, Route 1, Shilvertown Road, New Paltz, was commissioned an Army second lieutenant upon graduation from Officer Candidate School at Ft. Eustis, Va., Sept. 13.

During the 23-week course, Lieutenant Egdorf was trained in supervising transportation of military personnel and equipment. He received extensive instruction in transporting combat troops and supplies over jungle terrain and was also trained in operation and maintenance of vehicles used by the Transportation Corps.

The lieutenant entered the Army in Sept. 1962.

A 1962 graduate of East Lansing (Mich.) High School, Lieutenant Egdorf's wife, Cornelia, lives at 3063 Xavier Court, Oceanside.

To Undergo Training

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. — Airman William E. Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Phillips of 5 Hasbrouck Place, New Paltz, has been selected for technical training at Sheppard AFB, Tex., as a U.S. Air Force communications specialist.

The airman recently completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex. His new school is part of the Air Training Command which conducts hundreds of specialized courses to provide technically trained personnel for the nation's aerospace force.

Airman Phillips was graduated from New Paltz Central High School in 1966.

Berry on Leave

Pvt. Mark Berry of Sleighsburg spent a recent 14-day leave at his home after completing his basic training at Fort Dix, N. J. His next assignment will be with the 43rd Engineer Battalion at Fort Benning, Ga.

Son, Daughter Honored

The son and daughter of a Kingston couple were recently honored while stationed at separate U.S. Air Force bases.

According to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Conlin, DeWitt Mills Road, their daughter Linda, serving with the Air Force Nursing Corps, was promoted to first lieutenant during ceremonies at Bunker Hill AFB, Peru, Ind. She joined the Air Force in Aug. 1965 and is a graduate of Kingston High School and Kingston Hospital School of Nursing.

Mr. and Mrs. Conlin's son, Terry, was recently promoted to airman third class after graduation at jet mechanic school at Chanute AFB, Ill., and has been assigned for duty at Luke AFB, Colo. He is also a graduate of Kingston High School and joined the Air Force in March, 1965.

Assigned as Scout

Army Private First Class Vincent J. Van Loan, 21, son of Mrs. Esther Van Loan, 138 Broadway, Port Ewen, was assigned Sept. 18 as a scout with the 196th Light Infantry Brigade in Tay Ninh, Viet Nam.

The brigade is attached to the 25th Infantry Division, making it the largest combat unit in Viet Nam.

Van Loan, serving with Troop F of the brigade's 17th Armored Cavalry, entered the Army in October 1965 and was last stationed at Ft. Devens, Mass.

Promoted

ROGER SAHLOFF

Announcement has been made that Roger Sahloff, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Sahloff, 143 Third Avenue, has been promoted to airman second class. He is stationed in France.

Airman Sahloff entered the U.S. Air Force Nov. 19, 1965, and received his basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Tex. He was graduated in March from Sheppard Air Force Base, Wichita Falls, Tex., as an aircraft maintenance specialist.

Jurors to Meet Monday Night

The regular meeting of the Ulster County Grand Jurors Association will be held Monday night, Oct. 3, at the Court House, Wall Street, at 8 o'clock. A full attendance of members is requested.

Dear Abby . . .

'Antics' Lacking in Common Sense

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What is a gal supposed to do when a real nice guy calls and asks her for a date to a big party and she hates to accept on the spot because she's hoping someone more interesting will ask her?

Please understand, Abby, this guy who asked me is a very fine person. He's smart, has a good reputation, and is a gentleman, but he is short. I'm afraid if I accept him, and a taller guy asks me later I'll be sorry.

But how can a girl tell a fellow she would like a few days before giving him her answer?

NOT SURE

DEAR NOT: She can't. And if she's smart she won't pull any of those "call-me-in-a-few-days" capers. The "guy" may be short, but the gal who puts him off waiting for a taller proposition is shorter than he is. In the common sense department.

DEAR ABBY: I am married to a wonderful woman and we have two nice kids, which the wife really raised up fine. That I will say for her. But here is my problem: She doesn't know how to put things back when she has used them. She leaves dresser drawers and cabinet doors open, clothes on the floor and makes up all over the house. She leaves dinner dishes on the table overnight and the place is generally always a mess unless I clean it up.

I have tried to tell her to keep things straightened up better, but all I get is, "Sorry, I'll try to do better." But she never does. Abby, she doesn't drink, smoke or run around. I love her and would do anything for her, but I shouldn't have to do the housework. She is 30 years old and in good health, so there isn't any excuse for her sloppiness. What is your advice?

TIRED OF IT

DEAR TIRED: You say you love her and "would do anything for her." That's good because you may have to. You have two choices, if your wife is unwilling (or unable) to learn to keep house properly. (1) Do it for her. (2) Overlook it.

DEAR ABBY: First let me say I am not a silly kid who is trying to hang on to her "daddy." I am a happily-married, 27-year-old woman. My mother died two years ago and my father started seeing a 45-year-old widow. (He is 52). She is a bright gal and secretary to a prominent business man.

One evening when dad and his lady friend were here I went into the kitchen to make coffee and when I came out I found them locked in a passionate embrace the likes of which I haven't seen outside the movies. I love my father and it made me sick to see him carrying on like a teenager. My mother was such a dignified, modest person, Abby. She never would have been caught in a situation like that.

Should I try to break this thing up? My husband says to stay out of it. I liked this woman at first, but now I can't look at her. What should I do?

SICK AT HEART

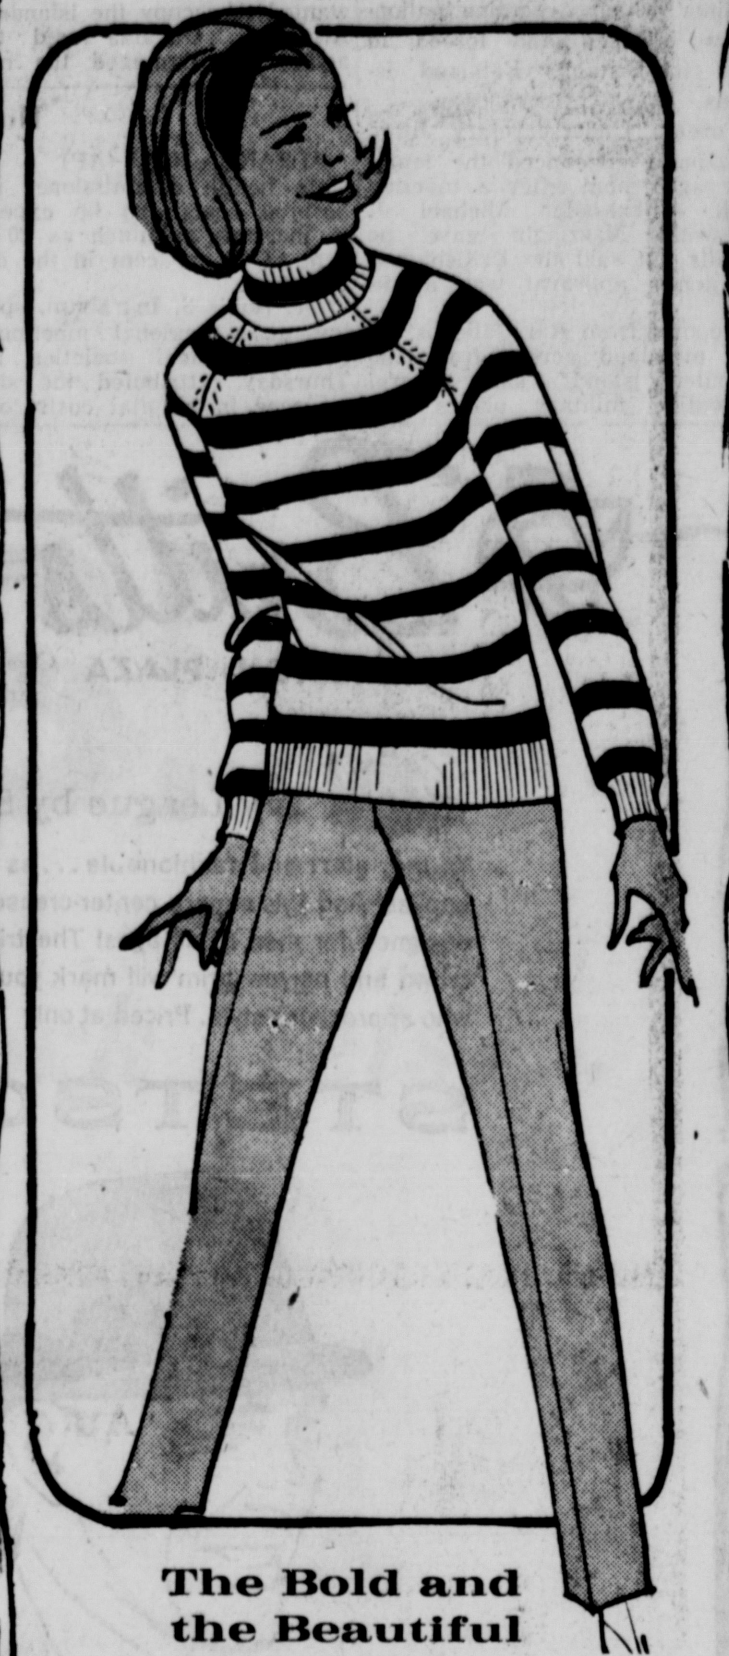

DEAR SICK: Stay out of it. Why should you be "sick" because your father was able to find happiness again? Would you rather have him lonely and grieving the rest of his life? If you really "love" father, accept his lady friend.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "UNDECIDED IN LEXINGTON": If it is really love, it will last until you return. "Absence is to love what wind is to fire; it extinguishes the little and kindles the big." (Rabutin)

Mental Health Meeting Is Not Open to Public

William van Benschoten, president of the Ulster County Association for Mental Health, today corrected an earlier association report that the Thursday, Oct. 6, meeting would be open to the public.

"This meeting will not be open to the public as originally announced by the association," the organization's president said. The meeting will feature the appearance of Dr. Hymman Pleasure, New York State deputy commissioner for mental health. The session is scheduled for the Gov. Clinton Hotel at 7:30 p. m.

Van Benschoten has urged the attendance of all who received an invitation to attend the party which is planned as an informal meeting to discuss with Dr. Pleasure how Ulster County may better serve and help their residents who are troubled with mental illness.

Hoffman Honored

NEW YORK (AP) — Paul G. Hoffman, chief of the U.N. development program, was honored in New York Thursday night at a testimonial dinner attended by personalities from the worlds of government, labor, publishing and diplomacy.

Among those paying tribute to Hoffman, former chief administrator of the Marshall Plan and head of the Ford Foundation, were: U.N. Secretary-General U Thant; roving Ambassador W. Averell Harriman; publisher John Cowles; Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers of America; Gen. David Sarnoff, chairman of the Radio Corporation of America; Mrs. George Romney; Mrs. Danny Kaye and Mayor John V. Lindsay.

Injured in Crash

Frank Montafia, 18, of 206 Broadway, Port Ewen, was injured at 11:30 p. m. Thursday when his car skidded on Ulster Landing Road and hit a tree stump and embankment. He was treated at Benedictine Hospital for a shoulder injury, according to Trooper Thomas Searles. Montafia was driving south when the vehicle slid on wet pavement while negotiating a left curve. Troopers John Kohland and Craig Bremer investigated. Montafia was taken to the hospital by Doctors ambulance.

State Convention Set by NYARC

Distinguished legislators, educators and experts in the field of mental retardation will gather for workshops and panels next Friday for the annual State Convention of the New York State Association for Retarded Children at Hotel Jamestown, in Jamestown.

Officials said more than 250 delegates from throughout the state, representing 47 local units, will also attend to take part in the workshops and panel discussions. They said focus of the programs will be the strengthening and development of programs within the association's chapters.

Another highlight scheduled will be discussion of proposed amendments to the state constitution to help the mentally retarded by Joseph T. Weingold, executive director of the association.

These amendments include one for increased power to provide money for education and support of those afflicted and another eliminating the restriction limiting state civil departments to twenty, enabling a separate department for the problems of the mentally retarded.

The final amendment, Weingold said, concerns amendment of provisions for treatment of non-profit agencies on the same level as business firms. The amendment would conform with the federal policy which approves grants to such agencies without requiring they apply for loans from banks or furnish their own funds.

Also during the session, six questions will be submitted for approval by the delegates and awards to New York State's 1966 graduates will be made for essays regarding mental retardation. Additional awards will be presented to outstanding state school employees from nine state schools for the mentally handicapped.

The first American Young Men's Christian Association was established in Boston, Mass., on Dec. 29, 1851.

Indict 4 County Jail Inmates on keepsie, was awaiting trial on a forgery and grand larceny charge.

John F. Tarter was in jail awaiting grand jury action on a burglary and unlawful entry charge.

Attempted Escape

It is charged the four men attempted to escape after notifying the front office that the toilet bowl was plugged and overflowing. Deputies Bernard Ellsworth and Davis Hughes Sr., opened the cellblock door to investigate. The four men allegedly pounced on the two officers, and one poked a mop handle into the stomach of one of the officers. The keys were wrested from the hands of one of the jailers and they were locked in the cell area. The four then made their way to the outer gate where they found jailer Douglas Hymt standing at the main door with his gun drawn. Prior to attempting to make their escape the men opened the cell door and released more than 40 prisoners. None of them was able to escape.

At the time Sheriff Martin stated that the men had plotted to escape that night. Only the stationing of an extra guard at the main gate prevented a wholesale escape.

The four inmates did not know of the extra man being stationed at the main exit gate. Knowledge of a possible jail break attempt had filtered out from the jail to Sheriff Martin prior to the attempt and the extra guard was posted.

During the 90-minute period until the four men had been returned to their cells, over 40 prisoners were at large in the jail but no serious incident occurred.

Set for Oct. 14

Norman Kellar appears for Eastern, Thomas Saccoman appears for Jenkins. Lee is represented by Ward Ingalsbe and H. Clark Bell was assigned to defend Tarter. The matter was put over to October 14 at 10 a. m.

Also indicted were two local youths, William James Michaels and Roger Steltz, 17, who were indicted for assault second and third degree growing out of an alleged attack on William and Joseph E. Kearney Jr., at Forest Park on July 1, where a dance was being held. Pleas of not guilty were entered.

Other indictments returned Thursday were:

Josephine Kahn, Phenicia, burglary in the third degree, two counts; unlawful entry, two counts; petit larceny, two counts. The charge grows out of the alleged taking of articles from an antique shop.

Frederick Fenton Lane, third degree burglary; unlawful entry and petit larceny.

David Frederick Merrill, Los Angeles, Calif., charged with possession of burglar's tools. He was stopped last July 18, by Thruway troopers. He entered a plea of innocent. Joseph Hill was assigned as counsel. Remanded to jail.

Pleads Innocent

Davis Howard France, charged with third degree burglary; unlawful entry and petit larceny, growing out of an alleged entrance to a Woodstock liquor store on April 21, last. He entered a plea of innocent.

Willie Oliver Jr., 23, of Poughkeepsie, charged with grand larceny second degree and unauthorized use of a motor vehicle last July 12. He entered a plea of innocent. Robert Ortale was assigned as counsel.

James Patrick Hill, first degree grand larceny and unauthorized use of a motor vehicle.

authorized use of a motor vehicle.

William John Lutley, first degree grand larceny and unlawful use of a motor vehicle.

James Howard Van Demark, Highland, grand larceny first degree; unauthorized use of a motor vehicle; assault in the second and third degree.

Charge Unlawful Entry

David Howard France, unlawful entry to a building on August 4, last. Plea of innocent entered.

Vincent John Lupo, Pasquale J. Pasqua and Samuel Weiss, third degree burglary; unlawful entry; second degree grand larceny; illegal possession of stolen property; illegal possession of fireworks and illegal possession of burglar's tools. All are from New York City and allegedly entered the Amerling residence.

Thomas Radel, third degree burglary; unlawful entry to a building and petit larceny.

John Franklin Tarter and Thomas O'Neil, third degree burglary; unlawful entry and petit larceny alleged to have taken place July 23. A plea of innocent was entered and H. Clark Bell was assigned as counsel.

Burl Alexander Forsythe, criminally possessing a loaded pistol and illegal possession of a firearm.

Leifer Feliz Ruiz, criminally possessing a loaded pistol and illegal possession of a firearm.

Gregory T. Lyke, grand larceny and unauthorized use of a motor vehicle.

Timothy France, grand larceny and unauthorized use of a motor vehicle.

Howard Dawson, criminally carrying a switchblade knife.

Glenn John Linko and Patrick J. Mallon, criminally receiving stolen property, as a misdemeanor and unlawful possession of amphetamine as a misdemeanor.

John Andrew Zaccal, second degree forgery, 12 counts; grand larceny first degree, nine counts.

Harold Delano Lee, second degree forgery; attempted forgery of the second degree and attempted grand larceny in the second degree. This indictment supersedes a prior indictment.

Marty Calega Jr. and Anthony Sharlette, third degree burglary; unlawful entry and grand larceny, first degree.

Marty Calega Jr. and Anthony Sharlette, third degree burglary; unlawful entry and first degree grand larceny.

Marty Calega Jr., Robert Chapman and Anthony Sharlette, third degree burglary and unlawful entry to a building.

John Andrew Zaccal, also known as John Zaccal, fraudulently secreting or disposing of mortgaged property.

George Carpozis, Port Ewen, violation of Section 974a of the penal law, three counts, and violation of Section 975 of the Penal Law.

Robert Boughton was fined $100 on a plea of guilty to third degree assault. Joseph Qualtere appeared for defendant.

The Grand Jury reported 10 dismissals. Among the dismissals was a kidnapping charge against Rafael Robert Rivas, Plattelk. He allegedly took his own child. Also the Grand Jury found no bill against Daniel Hill Bailey of Kingston who had been charged with first degree manslaughter for the death of his wife.

Other dismissals were:

John Anthony Sheffield, rape as a misdemeanor.

Nathaniel Thomas Henley, first degree grand larceny and unauthorized use of a motor vehicle.

Thomas Newell Meek, first degree grand larceny and unauthorized use of a motor vehicle.

Allen E. Peck, second degree forgery.

William Arthur Pendell, second degree grand larceny and unauthorized use of a motor vehicle.

Norval John Malloy, possession of marijuana.

John Zacci, second degree grand larceny.

John Andrew Zaccal, second degree grand larceny.

County Judge Mino announced that he would take up the criminal calendar on Oct. 14 at 10 a. m.

Ulster Kiwanis Will Take Boys to Base

Ulster Kiwanis Club will sponsor a bus trip to Stewart Air Force Base, near Newburgh, Saturday.

The Kiwanians have chartered four buses for the trip with between 185 and 195 boys scheduled to take part.

Among the groups making the trip will be representatives of the Ulster Little League, Children's Home, Kingston Boys Club and a group from Project Able at the John F. Kennedy School.

Buses will leave Kingston at 8:30 and while at Stewart the boys will have lunch and be taken on a guided tour.

Members of Ulster Kiwanis will accompany the group as chaperones. The club is paying all expenses for the project.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market lurked above its 1966 lows early this afternoon, giving up a little ground in moderate trading.

Losses of fractions to 1 or 2 points among key stocks outnumbered gainers as the list moved cautiously.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 2.34 at 770.32, still remaining above the 1966 closing low of 767.03 reached Aug. 29.

The question in Wall Street was whether the market would hold above that low or break through it to seek "support" further down the line.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .5 at 278.7 with industrials off .5, rails off .8 and utilities up .4.

As trading wore on into the afternoon, Pan American World Airways fell 1 1/2 to 49 on a block of 23,200 shares. Jones & Laughlin sank 3/4 to 45 on a block of 18,300 shares.

Delta Airlines lost 1 1/4 at 91 on 16,900 shares. IBM shucked off 4 points, KLM Airlines, which dropped 10 1/2 points as the most-active stock Thursday, started off with a recovery of about a point but lost ground later.

Off a couple of points were such stocks as Eastern Air Lines, Boeing and Xerox. Down a point or so were Anaconda, Goodyear, United Aircraft, Raytheon and Polaroid.

General Motors, Ford, Kennecott and Union Carbide gained slightly.

Clergy Panel . . .

that in his opinion this situation could undergo a change, but he stressed that his answer was strictly a guess.

In reply to a question as to what the religion of the world might be two thousand years hence, the Rev. Mr. Hunter of St. James Methodist Church stated that he thought it would be similar to that of today. He opined that because of the variety of people in the world, there would continue to be a variety of religions. He did emphasize that he thought that Christian fellowship would probably be stronger.

The question of prayer in the public school system brought the statement from the Rev. Mr. Hunter that he agreed with the Supreme Court ban, "that prayer in a public school never was a soul," that it was too much of a ritual, and that the subject of prayer was a project for the home and church.

Mull School Prayers

Commenting upon the subject, Father Koerber thought that perhaps the decision of prayer in the public school should be left for a decision on the local level. He pointed to the motto of the United States — "In God We Trust," and the question "how can religion be eliminated?"

Answering the question "are people really all equal," Father Koerber said that he did not think so. He suggested that they were equal in some things, that they had the same rights, but the different obligations led him to answer no.

He further stated that people had many things in common but the whole person was different. The Rev. Mr. Hunter opined that possibly "God chooses a person in response of that person to Him," and apparently disagreed with the question that "people are really all equal."

Study of Wars

Still another question to the panel concerned the idea of the church allowing wars and not trying to stop them. The Methodist minister declared that "the church is the people," and thus reactions depended upon the thoughts of the public. He further stated that "there are values worth fighting for, that he thought there were things worse than war, and that war was still wrong in the name of God and man."

Father Koerber replied to the question by pointing out the record of wars in the Old Testament, and then said "people involved do not cry out loud enough" against wars.

The final question on the program referred to the idea of not eating meat on Fridays. Father Koerber replied that three-quarters of the world was not able to keep the ideal, which he said was instituted "as a witness to Christ for what He has done for us." He further stated that this question was now more or less left for the Bishop of the diocese to decide.

The Rev. Dr. Gaise concluded the program with a statement concerning his personal appreciation of the ecumenical movement and the strides toward better religious understanding which had resulted from the movement.

Woodstock Home Entered

The home of Donald Biresch, Wiley Lane, Woodstock, was entered some time Thursday between 8 a. m. and 6 p. m., when he returned home from work.

Entrance had been gained by forcing the front door. A check disclosed the following articles missing, a razor, suitcase, a number of white shirts, slacks, jacket and whiskey. Another apartment occupied by two young men in the house will be checked when the two arrive home to determine whether anything is missing. An investigation is being made by the Sheriff's Department and the Woodstock Town Police.

Saugerties Man's Car Fired Upon, NotePhone Threat

Dutchess County sheriff's office is continuing an investigation into an alleged shooting Thursday night about 10:45 on Route 376 in the Town of Wappingers when the car of Charles White of 5 Garden Circle, Saugerties, was fired upon.

Ulster County sheriff's officials are investigating a threat which was made to White's wife sometime later that if she turned on a light in her home in Saugerties she would be shot.

Chief Investigator Charles Borchers of the Dutchess County Sheriff's Department, reported the car occupied by White and Donald DeGroat of 11 Country Club Drive, Mt. Marion, had been fired upon by an unknown person about 11:45 p. m. yesterday. The men were not struck.

Ulster County Sheriff's Department was later notified by Mrs. White that she had received a telephone call and was told that if she put lights on in her home she would be shot. She requested police protection and a car was dispatched to the scene and Deputy Sheriff Gerald Miller remained in the area until White returned early today.

County Investigator Thomas A. Mayone is continuing the investigation.

Reason for the shooting in Poughkeepsie was unknown by the Sheriff's Department. It is believed the act may be over the possible lay-off of employees of a cleaning company, officials stated.

N.J. Firm Gives

Fifth Avenue, New York, $412,000.

Eric Hemphill, executive director of the KURA said it was expected that the agency board would meet next week to consider awarding a contract.

Among buildings to be razed are 118 sheds and other outbuildings. The land is to be cleared for private residential, commercial and other development.

May Let October Contract

Previously cleared was 10 acres on which the 135-unit Rondout Gardens housing project is to be built, and it is expected that a contract for that will be let next month.

Actual execution of the Broadway East urban renewal project began in Jan. 1965. It is to cost some $9,000,000.

Demolition for the housing project was completed earlier this year and 79 structures at a cost of some $47,000.

volunteers of the Junior League of Kingston. Questions involving age of the house, existence of original fireplaces, floorboards, ceiling beams, windows, masonry and hardware make up the essentials of the survey questionnaires.

Ulster, Hardenburgh, Shandaken, Denning, Olive, Marlborough, Esopus, New Paltz, Lloyd, Marlboro, Plattelk, Gardiner, Shawangunk and Wawarsing are among the areas to be surveyed in the near future.

More Data Sought

Due to the abundance of historic buildings in Ulster County, the efficiency of the survey in finding all buildings predating 1850 largely depends on public cooperation. Anyone knowing of the existence of such buildings may contact Historic Preservation Chairman Mrs. George F. Bushnell, Town of Rochester and Mrs. James R. Myers, Town of West Hurley.

Hurricane Slams

And Dunn said gigantic floods surely raced down the steep slopes into the valleys and among the tin and thatched-roofed homes of the natives in this poverty-ridden nation.

The known death toll reached 39 in the French islands of Guadeloupe and the Dominican Republic, but it was feared that hundreds of others may lie dead along the way.

But as dazed victims of the great hurricane poked through the rubble of thousands of homes, Floridians breathed more easily.

Inez is on a course, Dunn said, which seems destined to keep the killer storm clear of the U.S. mainland. A weakening high-pressure ridge to the north appears to be pulling it into a track that will curve it to the north and then northeast.

"We can't say that with absolute certainty," Dunn said, "but we have real cause to be optimistic."

In Guadeloupe, 33 bodies have been found and hundreds of injured were being treated in hospitals damaged by the wind and without electric power. Bread lines were formed by 15,000 left homeless.

The eye was centered 20 miles southwest of Guantanamo as winds built up to a screaming 30-mile gale and rose steadily.

Rain pounded Cuba's ripening coffee crop in the mountainous province of Oriente and Castro went there to appeal for evacuation of the dangerous lowland areas.

As the full fury of Inez strikes the island, tides of six to 10 feet are expected to smash over the coastlines.

south and killing 50 Communist defenders.

The Leathernecks poured a heavy barrage down on the entrenched Red force, and jet planes rained fiery napalm on the 1,000-yard-long target area. Then ground troops moved in and occupied the network of bunkers, tunnels and holes which had served as a regimental or battalion command post.

The Leathernecks found 51 North Vietnamese dead in the valley. This raised to 933 the total of Communists reported killed since the Marines launched Operation Prairie on Aug. 3. The Marines have described their own casualties as moderate, meaning that some of their units have been badly hit in the two-month-old series of battles with North Viet Nam's 324B division.

On the political front, Premier Nguyen Cao Ky told newsmen he would never agree to have the Viet Cong represented at peace negotiations. He added that he had not received any official word on the U.S. attitude.

The United States originally said it would not sit at a conference table with the Viet Cong but suggested later that Viet Cong representatives serve as part of the North Vietnamese delegation. In a new statement of U.S. peace proposals before the U.N. General Assembly last week, Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg said if Hanoi wants peace there should be no insurmountable problem about getting the Viet Cong's views heard in the peace talks.

Judging the Risk
In New Issues

Q) "Is it right to buy new issues? I've been warned against doing so."

L.V.

A) If no one ever bought new issues, our economy would be seriously hampered. New offerings of established companies present no problem. New issues of common stock in unseasoned situations are suitable only for investors who can afford to take on a lot of market risk. If you are one of these, you can—and perhaps should—consider new issues as a part of your overall investment plan. A broker is probably the best source of initial information on a pending offering.

While I'd be skeptical of any sales pitch filled with superlatives, a sound, well-rendered opinion of the situation from a reputable investment house should give you the facts you need to make a decision. The offering will probably be presented in a prospectus. Despite the small type and legal phraseology, read this carefully, checking such items as the reasons for the offering, the standing of the people who will run the company, the product line, financial strength, and future growth potentials.

If the situation still looks promising, I'd make the effort to check the company's trade position by talking with its competitors or the businessmen it buys from or sells to. These opinions may swing to one extreme or the other,

BABSON on BUSINESS

By ROGER W. BABSON

Babson Park, Mass., Sept. 30—Though Japan is still plagued by a number of problems and her future role in world affairs is not yet clearly discernible, she is steadily regaining her influence in Asia. Before another decade passes, she may well have recaptured her prewar status as a major world power.

Extraordinary Comeback

Highly industrialized and more completely democratic than any other Asian nation, Japan has achieved truly amazing postwar economic recovery. More astounding still have been the strides she has made toward building the first really modern society in the Far East. Now emerging from a moderately prolonged business recession which had its beginnings in 1964, Japan's latest burst of prosperity is reflected in an average rise in urban household income of 10.7 per cent in the first six months of this year over that for the 1965 period. Just a few weeks ago, Premier Eisaku Sato's office disclosed that city-dwelling Japanese families now have average monthly income equivalent to $184.53. While this is far below the average for U. S. families, it is a new high for Japan—and three times the average family income in most other Asian countries.

Japan's area in square miles is less than four per cent of the area of the United States. Yet there are 100 million people living in Japan, or just about half as many as are living in our country. Although more than half her arable land is still used for growing rice (the chief food), Japan has somehow also squeezed into her small island confines what has become the most concentrated and most readily usable industrial complex in the entire Far East.

She has made impressive use of her raw material resources to build an iron and steel industry as modern and efficient as any in the Western World. She has also become a leader in shipbuilding and in the manufacture of precision instruments. Her own large merchant fleet contributes mightily to the very favorable international trade balance she has enjoyed for some years now.

Leadership Potential

The industrial rebirth of Japan in the past 20 years is all the more amazing when one considers that at war's end nearly 50 per cent of her industry lay in ruin. Our enlightened policy in Japan, administered in the late 1940's by Gen. Douglas MacArthur, was a big factor in making possible the economic gains that nation has achieved. But great credit must also be given to the energy, determination, and creativity of the Japanese people themselves.

Primarily, it is this leadership potential that has brought Japan so quickly to the fore in agriculture, industry, the arts, world trade, and scientific achievement. The Japanese are ambitious, resourceful, and hard-working. They can be counted upon to make the most of their not inconsiderable natural resources, their scientific know-how, and their unique geographical position relative to the Asian continent and the Pacific. Our forecast is that in the next ten years Japan will vastly increase her influence in Asia and in the world . . . whether she decides ultimately to draw closer to Peking, to Moscow, or to the West.

Equal Free World Partner

Today, Japan is at the crossroads. In an Asia racked by war and rumors of war, Japan's early postwar pacifism is gradually giving way to a more realistic posture. She is about to adopt a new constitution. She is about to re-arm. In self-defense, she may well feel that she must develop her own nuclear capability to offset that of Peking.

Tied to China by history and culture, she is at the same time profoundly Western-oriented. She feels strongly that she has a mission in Asia and that she can in time exert an influence

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

When both partners bid the limit of their hands, the chances are that the final contract will need a little support from Lady Luck if it is to be successful.

With 18 high card points and no five-card suit, South has the absolute minimum for a jump to two no-trump following his opening bid. North's seven high card points come close to representing a minimum response.

We approve North's second bid of three no-trump because we never like to stop one trick short of game when we have any hope at all.

The contract also turns out what experts are inclined to refer to as a "laydown."

South wins the opening spade lead in dummy and leads either the deuce or trey of diamonds. East plays low and South finesses to West's king.

West probably leads a second spade. If he doesn't, South wins whatever is led and then goes to dummy with his remaining high spade in order to lead the ten on China. But she is also being wooed by Russia and the promise of greater trade with Siberia. Will she swing out of the Western bloc of which she has been a part of these past 20 years? Perhaps the answer depends upon whether the West will in fact make her an equal Free World partner.

of diamonds. If East doesn't cover, South lets it ride and leads the last diamond. Then South runs off enough tricks in high cards to give him his contract.

It all looks simple enough, yet many players would find a way to go down. In the first place South must take the first spade in dummy. Then he must be careful to lead a small diamond, not a ten. He must reserve that ten to lead the next time. If he doesn't, he will have to win the second diamond trick in his own hand and won't be able to lead a third diamond through East.

Expect 1 Million At Red China's 17th Celebration

By JOHN RODERICK

TOKYO (AP) — Swept by a new purge, whipped up to revolutionary frenzies by its youthful Red Guards, Communist China celebrates its 17th anniversary Saturday and the glory of the cult of Mao Tse-tung.

A million persons — among them the newly created Red Guards — are expected to parade through the Tien an Men-Gate of Heavenly Peace-Square before the 72-year-old Mao, a ritual carried out with flourishes since 1949.

Feature Red Guards

The accent, Japanese correspondents in Peking report, will be on the Red Guards, boys and girls who have been designated by Mao to infuse new blood into his disputed ideological program for China. They have been doing so by violently shaking up old customs, old ideas, and the old religions.

The big festival commemorates Mao's proclamation of the People's Republic of China in 1949. Normally it is the dramatic highlight of the year with its well-drilled, colorfully dressed marchers. This year's may be something of an anticlimax. Three enormous rallies already have been held in the great square since Aug. 15 with Mao present at all of them. Beside him has been China's new strong man: Defense Minister Lin Biao.

The prominent presence of Lin, described as Mao's "close comrade in arms," and the absence of some other party leaders will underscore the fact that 1966 has been an extraordinary year for China.

New African Nation

GABERONES, Bechuanaland (AP) — Africa gets another nation one minute after midnight as the British protectorate of Bechuanaland becomes independent Botswana.

It will be the first black-ruled country to border white-ruled South Africa. Prime Minister Seretse Khama, who will be sworn in as president married a blonde British typist 18 years ago. They have four children.

Missing will be Peking's Mayor Peng Chen, who cried from the rostrum last October, "Imperialism and its lackeys will not last very long!" Peng himself did not last very long after that.

Mao touched off the purge soon after his appearance last Oct. 1. Quitting Peking in November, he retired to South China and drew up another of his blueprints for remolding China's masses. He ordered the army to plunge deeper into work and farm projects, called on farmers to get into industrial production, on factory workers to do parttime farming, cut the university course from four to one or two years. It was his answer to those who had dared to criticize and oppose him.

Letters of Commendation Are Issued to KHS Students; 38,000 Students Take Tests

Letters of Commendation honoring their high performance on the 1966 National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test have been awarded to 16 students at Kingston High School, Principal Dan H. Allen has announced.

Those named Commended students are:

Carol Breslin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Breslin, Slater Street, Bloomington;

Anna Carro, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Carro, RD 3, Hurley;

Edward DuBois, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward DuBois, 14 Derrenbacher Street, Kingston;

Richard Eng, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Eng, 22 Flatbush Avenue, Kingston;

Gale Greenwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Greenwood of Woodstock;

S. Candice Harding, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harding, 248 Main Street, Kingston;

Frank Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Johnson, 95 West O'Reilly Street, Kingston;

Madeline Kaplan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Saul Kaplan, 70 Watson Lane, Kingston;

Richard Peller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Peller, 50 Jahet Street, Kingston;

Jeanne Penrose, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Penrose, Millers Lane Extension, Kingston;

Nancy Sweeney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sweeney, 1087 Codwise Street, Kingston; Joyce Yaple, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Yaple, 298 Lucas Avenue, Kingston.

These students are among 38,000 students in the United States who scored in the upper two per cent of those who will graduate from high school in 1967. The commended students rank just below the 14,000 semi-finalists announced earlier this month by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

John M. Stalnaker, president of NMSC, said: "The outstanding record made by these students in a national competition deserves public recognition. Their significant academic attainment gives promise of continued success in college."

"Commended students should be encouraged to pursue their education as their intellectual talent represents an important and much needed natural resource. Our nation will benefit from their continuing educational development."

Only the highest-scoring students in each state, the Semi-finalists, remain eligible to be considered for Merit Scholarships. Although students receiving Letters of Commendation advance not further in the Merit Program, their names are reported to their scholarship-granting agencies and to the colleges they named as their first and second choices at the time they took the NMSC. These colleges also receive reports of home addresses, test scores, anticipated college majors and career intentions of the Commended students. NMSC encourages these students to make every effort to continue their education.

Wadnola-Lukaszewski Wedding Announced

MRS. RAYMOND LUKASZEWSKI

On Saturday, Sept. 24, Miss Judith Ann Wadnola, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Wadnola of Elmwood Street, Forster Park, became the bride of Raymond Joseph Lukaszewski, of 132 Foxhall Avenue, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lukaszewski. The Rev. James LeBar, assistant pastor of St. Catherine Labourer Church, performed the double ring ceremony. Music was supplied by the organist, James Sweeney, and the soloists Mrs. Sweeney.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, wore a princess gown of silk organza and alencon lace with a chapel length removable train and a bridal bonnet trimmed with seed pearls to which was shirred a silk illusion veil. She carried a bouquet of white orchids on a prayer book showered with stephanotis.

The church was decorated with altar vases of white gladioli, chrysanthemums and pompons. The bride dedicated a bouquet of white flowers at the altar of the Blessed Mother.

The maid of honor, Miss Jayne Heehing of 303 East Chestnut Street, wore an empire sheath gown in deep geranium rose crepe with a wide wattleau panel and a tiny tulle veil. She carried a cascade of light pink miniature carnations.

Bridesmaids included Miss Cynthia Amato of Glasco, Miss Marjory Candello of 236 East Chester Street, Miss Carol Axtmann of 109 Fulton Avenue, Poughkeepsie, Miss Jacqueline Bett of 143 St. James Street, and Miss Jane Engle of 120 Foxhall Avenue. The bridesmaids' gowns were identical to the maid of honor except in two-tone crepe.

The flower girl was Miss Catherine Kupka who wore a light rose crepe gown. She carried a basket of light and dark pink miniature carnations and pink sweetheart roses.

The bridegroom's brother, Wallace Lukaszewski, of Eugene Street, Port Ewen, served as the best man. Ushers included Frederick J. Wadnola, brother of the bride of 5 Elmwood Street, Thomas Wadnola, also a brother of the bride, William Huber, 63 Maple Street, John Schoonmaker, 34 Grant Street, and Ronald Shoomaker, of Albany Avenue.

A wedding reception for 250 was held at the Capri 400, Port Ewen, after which the couple left on a wedding trip to Bermuda. The bride chose a two piece brown print suit, brown accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Lukaszewski is a graduate of St. Ursula's and the City Laboratory School for Medical Technologists. She attended Ulster Community College and is currently employed as a laboratory technician at St. Francis Hospital in Poughkeepsie.

Mr. Lukaszewski is a graduate of Kingston High School and has served four years with the Marines. He is employed by Western Electric Inc., Poughkeepsie.

The couple will reside in Kingston.

Girl Scout News Kingston Leaders Plan Activities at First Fall Meeting

The Kingston Neighborhood Association of Girl Scout adults held the first fall meeting at St. Joseph's School Hall last week. Mrs. John Murdoch, neighborhood chairman, introduced new leaders present before conducting the regular business of the meeting. Among the many topics discussed were the coming Community Chest parade to be held on Oct. 8, in which the Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts has been invited to participate. Present plans include a float and a marching group of Scouts of the various age levels. All will assemble at the high school at 6:15 p. m.

Registration forms were distributed to the leaders. The district is due to register by Oct. 10. The Cadette Craft Workshop to be held in New Paltz on Oct. 8 was also discussed by Mrs. Ronald Hill, reservations chairman and instructor for the printing and stenciling at the course. Leaders were requested to get their reservations in by Oct. 1.

The Service Team was introduced to the leaders and an information booklet based on the program for the 1966-67 Scout year was distributed. Service Team members include Mrs. Frank Mongillo, Brownie consultant and Mrs. Robert Pomeroy, Junior and Cadette consultant for Lake Katrine, Ulster Hose, St. Catherine, Sawkill and Zena; Mrs. Robert Kmiecik, Troop consultant for St. Joseph, No. 8 School, First Presbyterian Church; Mrs. Horace L. Brown, Troop consultant for Hurley, St. James Church, George Washington, and Bailey School.

Also, Mrs. Kenneth Schupp, troop consultant for St. Peter, St. Mary, Kennedy School, Sophie Finn and Church of The Comforter. Mrs. Frank Mongillo in charge of the Sunshine Fund and Mrs. H. L. Brown, publicity. Mrs. H. E. Thomas is troop organizer for the Hurley area.

Entertainment for the evening included a sample Brownie Investiture by members of the Service Team, and two "Nosebag Dramatics" skits by a group of leaders. One skit was a baseball theme entitled "This Is for the Birds," and the second a comic travelogue entitled "What a Block Head."

Announcements were made concerning the basic leadership training course being given for new leaders at the Scout Office and the coming patrol leaders training sessions for Juniors and Cadettes to be given shortly. Interested scouts may contact their service team members for particulars.

Refreshments were served by the evening's hostesses, Mrs. Leo Notari and Mrs. Alice Winnie, leaders of St. Joseph's Junior Troop 29.

The Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts is a participating member of the Ulster County Community Chest.

Mt. Marion Auction.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Mt. Marion Reformed Church will hold an auction at the church grounds Saturday, Oct. 29 starting 10 a. m. There will be used furniture, antiques, bric-a-brac and other items. The public may attend.

Letha Liscom Weds John Patrick Motrie; Ceremony Takes Place in St Joseph's Here

Miss Letha Ann Liscom, the daughter of Mrs. Robert A. Liscom of 164 O'Neil Street, and the late Mr. Liscom, became the bride of John Patrick Motrie of 173 Horton Lane, Port Ewen, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank Motrie, Sunday, Sept. 25 at 2 p. m. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John J. O'Reilly pastor of St. Joseph's Church.

Organ music was provided by James Sweeney. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, David W. Liscom of Riverport, N. J.

The bride wore a sheath gown of candlelight crepe with scrolled Venice lace banding and high Empire bodice. She wore a custom made headpiece with a chapel length silk illusion veil and carried a bouquet of stephanotis centered with a white Georgiana orchid.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Walter Sismilich of 175 Doris Street, Port Ewen. She wore a sheath style gown of two-tone blue crepe with a silk braid encircling the empire bodice and a circlet of matching crepe with a short tulle veil.

John G. Reynolds, of 171 Horton Lane, Port Ewen, the brother-in-law of the bridegroom, served as best man. The ushers were Frank A. Jenkins, of New York City, brother-in-law of the bride, and Walter C. Sismilich of 175 Doris Street, Port Ewen.

A wedding reception for 100 guests was held at the Capri 400 Restaurant, Port Ewen.

The bride is a graduate of Kingston High School and was formerly employed at Myers Electric Inc., 779 Broadway. Mr. Motrie is a graduate of Kingston High School and is employed by Hooker Inc., 85 Grand Street.

After the reception the couple left on a wedding trip to Montreal and Niagara Falls. They will reside at 173 Horton Lane, Port Ewen.

The recently chartered Kingston Toastmaster's Club, a unit of the Toastmaster's International, will hold a special guest and ladies night, as a part of their induction of officers program, at 7 p. m. Saturday, Oct. 1 at the Amberlight Restaurant.

Dr. Harry C. McNamara will be inducted as president, Joseph H. Whitaker, Jr. as educational vice-president, Richard W. Van Duyn, secretary, Fred G. Kuhn, treasurer, and Joseph R. Marcks, Sergeant-at-arms.

A wide range of subjects will be developed under the training pattern established by Toastmaster's International, in their global reach to advance effective public speaking.

Guests from the Woodstock, Catskill and Poughkeepsie clubs are expected.

Legislative Platform Is Adopted by BPW At State Convention; Local Announcement

At the recent BPW convention held at Hotel Sagamore, Lake George, a forceful legislative platform was adopted by the delegates representing the various Business and Professional Women's Club throughout New York State.

Mrs. Rosemarie Caulfield, legislative chairman for the Ulster County Business and Professional Women's Club, an affiliate of the National and International BPW Clubs, Inc., announced that seven action items were adopted and five policy items.

The New York State Legislative Platform for the Business and Professional Women's Clubs includes support of the following:

1. Support of legislation at national, state and local levels to beautify America.
2. Support of legislation to create a continuing Governor's Council on the Education and Employment of Women.
3. Support repeal of legislation which discriminates on the basis of age, sex or marital status in government, professions or industry.
4. Support of legislation providing for jury service for women on the same basis as for men.
5. Support of legislation to strengthen vocational training and vocational guidance service to encourage young women to complete their education and to assist mature women returning to the labor market and legislation aimed at providing training and job placement of school drop-outs.
6. Support of legislation to control air and water pollution.
7. Support of legislation to raise the legal drinking age in New York State from 18 to 21 years.

The BPW State Legislative Platform also includes:

1. Support of legislation to the continuation of the expanded mental health program.
2. Support of legislation and other efforts directed toward (a) Control of the sale and use of narcotics and (b) Treatment of victims of drug addiction and alcoholism.
3. Support of legislation to improve highway safety.
4. Support of legislation to strengthen consumer protective service.
5. Support of legislation for the expansion of higher education facilities including those of the State University of New York and adequate financial assistance to students through scholarships, fellowships or loans.

Mrs. Caulfield also announced today that letters have been forwarded by the Ulster County BPW to Senators Kennedy and Javits asking them to indicate their thoughts and intended action on the Equal Rights Amendment, and to Congressman Resnick for his intended course of action on the proposed legislation which seeks to remove restrictions now fixed by law that result in unequal progression of women officers in the Armed Forces.

National Players Will Present Two Classics in Paltz

The Merchant of Venice and Aristophanes' The Birds will be brought to the State University College Theatre at New Paltz Oct. 5 and 6 by National Players, the longest running classical repertory company in the United States.

Admission will be free. The Players performances are sponsored by the New York State Council on the Arts and the New Paltz Chapter of Alpha Psi Omega, national dramatics fraternity. Tickets will be available at the college box office beginning Monday. Curtain time for both performances is 8:30 p. m.

The up-to-date acting version of Aristophanes' satire, done by drama critic Walter Kerr, offers a gorgeously costumed rendition of the hilarious Greek classic. In The Birds, two Athenians, fed up with society, hope to found a better world among the birds. The play satirizes without lecturing or sermonizing.

One of the most popular and best-loved of Shakespeare's comedies, The Merchant of Venice is unique in the kind of handsomely costumed, colorfully staged productions that National Players offers in the touring field today. Audiences can be assured of a production that balances the robust comedy of character with the tender lyricism of a famous love story.

National Players, now in its 18th consecutive season, is on the road every year from October to May. Audiences in 36 states and Canada, and U. S. troops in Europe, Asia, and the Arctic Circle, enjoy the repertory company's performances each year.

Birth Rate Drops

HONG KONG (AP) — Hong Kong's birth rate dropped to a record low of 27 per 1,000 in 1965 because of wider use of contraceptives, the Hong Kong Family Planning Association reported. The previous low recorded in the colony's 3.8 million population was 29 per 1,000 registered in 1964.

CADET JOHN F. CAREY, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent F. Carey of Route 28A, West Shokan, is one of 279 students enrolled in the largest freshman class in the 92 year history of State University Maritime College at Fort Schuyler, Bronx. Graduates of the Maritime College, the oldest training school of its kind in the United States, receive an accredited baccalaureate degree in one of four areas (Marine engineering, marine transportation, meteorology and oceanography and marine nuclear science) and qualify for a Ship's Officer License in the United States Merchant Marine. Cadet Carey is a 1965 graduate of Ontario Central School in Boiceville.

announced today that letters have been forwarded by the Ulster County BPW to Senators Kennedy and Javits asking them to indicate their thoughts and intended action on the Equal Rights Amendment, and to Congressman Resnick for his intended course of action on the proposed legislation which seeks to remove restrictions now fixed by law that result in unequal progression of women officers in the Armed Forces.

The Ulster County BPW Legislative Committee will issue to its members information on all candidates seeking office in the November election. The materials will be distributed at the October 11th meeting in the Governor Clinton Hotel, Mrs. Caulfield states.

HVPS Launches New Season With Janis In Orange County

On Monday, October 17, at 8:30 p. m., in the Newburgh Free Academy, Newburgh, N.Y., Byron Janis, with Claude Montoux conducting, the Hudson Valley Philharmonic Orchestra will strike the opening notes of the Rachmaninoff 2nd Piano Concerto truly launching the 1966-67 Philharmonic Concert season by the Orange County Council.

It is fitting that Mr. Janis should be playing the Russian master's concerto, for in 1962, at the request of our State Department, he made his second mission to the Soviet Union where he won what the press described as "the greatest reception ever given a visiting American artist." Accolades in the foreign press and the acclaim of leading Soviet musicians hailed him as a genius.

Born in McKeesport, Pennsylvania, young Byron Janis showed musical promise at a very early age and when he was eight years old he played for the renowned Joseph Lhevinne who recommended immediate study in preparation for a concert career. The years that followed were a continuing climb to success.

Following the Janis Hudson Valley Philharmonic Orange County Council concert on October 17, Philharmonic will give three more concerts in Newburgh, N. Y.: December 5, 1966, Haydn's Creation, February 6, 1967, Berlioz's Harold in Italy and the concluding concert on April 3, 1967 will feature the internationally famous violinist, Erica Morini.

Subscription tickets for the four concerts are available by writing immediately to Hudson Valley Philharmonic, Box 2132, Newburgh, N. Y., or by phoning 565-2480.

NEW PALTZ NEWS

Three Teachers Added to High School Faculty

New Paltz Central High School wishes to welcome three more new faculty members who were not included in last week's announcement.

Mrs. Joyce Manners was educated in England and Scotland and graduated from St. Andrews University in Scotland, where she majored in modern languages. She has done graduate work at the Sorbonne in Paris, Syracuse University, and currently at State University College at New Paltz. Mrs. Manners has lived in France and Canada and has traveled in Spain, Belgium and Germany. She has worked with the BBC Foreign Language Service in London and has held teaching positions in London, Toronto, and Syracuse before coming to New Paltz, where she is teaching French and Spanish. Mrs. Manners lives in Poughkeepsie with her husband and their two children.

Parade Saturday To Kickoff Local Chest Campaign

NEW PALTZ — On Saturday, 2:30 p. m. there will be a parade to kick-off the 1967 New Paltz Community Chest Campaign.

The units of the parade will assemble at 2 p. m. in the parking area of the New Paltz Central School. The following 13 member agencies of the chest will participate: Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, YMCA, YWCA, USO, Red Cross, Salvation Army, Association for Retarded Children, Boy's Club, Cerebral Palsy, Gateway Industries, Jewish Community Center, Mental Health.

The community may witness the parade and support the various agencies of the Chest by their contributions during the campaign from Oct. 1 to 15.

School Announces Student Teachers For Fall Term

New Paltz Central High School welcomes the following student teachers from State University College at New Paltz. They will be working with faculty members during the fall term.

Mrs. Hedy Herman is student teaching in secondary English with Harry Streifer as her co-operating teacher. Mrs. Herman is a graduate of Kessler's Business Institute in Poughkeepsie, and Ulster County Community College, Kingston. Formerly employed as a statistical investigator for the U. S. Department of Labor, Washington, D.C., Mrs. Herman will graduate from New Paltz State University College in December 1966, with a BA degree in education. The Hermans reside in New Paltz.

Mrs. Jeanette Levy graduated from George Washington High School in New York City. She was employed in the ladies fashion field for several years and was a buyer in New York City. After moving to Florida, she traveled in the south, representing major dress and lingerie stores. She received an associate master of arts degree from Miami Dade Junior College. Mrs. Levy entered State University College at New Paltz as a junior in September, 1965 and has been on the Dean's List every quarter since her entrance here. She plans to graduate in March, 1967. She is majoring in English and plans to teach on the secondary level. She is working with Albert Beard at New Paltz Central High School.

Miss Patricia Rommer of Pearl River, attended Pearl River High School, where she participated in student government, cheerleading, and class activities. She has been at State University College at New Paltz for four years and plans to graduate upon completion of her student teaching assignment in secondary mathematics. She is a member of Kappa Delta Pi, an honorary education fraternity and participated in intramural bowling while in school. She plans to teach high school mathematics in the Catskill area after graduation. She is working with Peter Howell at New Paltz Central High School.

Eugene Ventiglia was born in Naples, Italy. He came to the United States in 1959 and has lived in Poughkeepsie since then. He graduated from high school in Poughkeepsie in 1963. While in high school he participated in track and football and was a member of the National Honor Society. He attended college at New Paltz State University, where he was on the soccer team for four years and was elected to the All-American team two years. He is currently engaged in the final trials for the Olympic team.

He is a member of Kappa Delta Pi at New Paltz. Ventiglia is a language major and hopes to continue his career in the field of secondary education. He is working with Mrs. Eileen Faulkner, a French teacher at New Paltz High.

Local Students Set to Appear on 'Red Schoolhouse'

New Paltz Central School has been invited to appear on the weekly television program, The Little Red Schoolhouse. This will mark the second time for the New Paltz team, previously appeared during the spring of 1965.

This program is viewed over WRGB, Channel 6, on Mondays at 8:30 p. m. If Williams High defeats Maple Hill on the Sept. 26 program, New Paltz will meet Berne Knox Central on Oct. 3. If Maple Hill wins, New Paltz will meet the winner of the Maple Hill-Berne Knox contest on Oct. 10.

The following students have been selected to represent their school: John Franpton, captain; Eric Stanmyer, Bruce Blatchly and Mary Winkly. Joanne McElhenney was chosen as an alternate. John and Eric are seniors, and the other students are juniors. Robert Gooley, a senior high counselor and advisor to the National Honor Society, will accompany the students.

Pep Assembly

A pep assembly was held Friday, Sept. 23 for the purpose of teaching the student body the cheers to be used at the football games this season. The varsity and junior varsity cheerleaders demonstrated the cheers and the drill team performed. An award for the most enthusiasm was won by the sophomore class.

Library Hours

The high school library of the New Paltz Central School will be open every Wednesday 7 to 9 p. m. starting Oct. 15. This will enable students and teachers who have full day time schedules to use the library facilities. Books may be charged out and returned at this time and all reference and research materials will be made available.

Man Given 5-10 Term in Prison In Wife's Death
BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—A 56-year-old man who was in jail charged in his wife's death, when his son was killed fighting in Viet Nam, has been sentenced to a 5-to-10-year term in Attica State Prison.

The man, Sanford L. Jackson of Buffalo, fatally stabbed his wife, Etta Mae, 46, during a quarrel Dec. 9, 1965, police charged. He claimed that she had hurled a pot of hot coffee at him, they said.
Jackson was indicted on a charge of first-degree manslaughter, but pleaded guilty Sept. 8 in Erie County Court to a first-degree assault charge. He was sentenced Thursday by Judge Burke J. Burke. Jackson's son, Sanford L. Jr., was killed last August. He was one of nine children in the family.

Group Defends Rocky's Narcotics Program

NEW YORK (AP) — Defense of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's narcotics program came Wednesday from the New York State Council on Drug Addiction. The council issued a statement in reply to criticism of the governor's program by the Democratic gubernatorial candidate, Frank D. O'Connor.

It said Rockefeller's program "offers potentially effective therapy for voluntarily committed addicts." The council also said the Metcalf-Volker Act, which O'Connor favors, did not work because "The voluntarily admitted addict could sign out at will."

The Metcalf-Volker Act was passed three years and now has been replaced by the Rockefeller narcotics program.

Conservation Citations

JAMESTOWN, N. Y. (AP) — The State Conservation Council, meeting here at its 33rd annual convention, has cited five individuals, a newspaper, two organizations and a business firm for contributions to conservation of New York's natural resources. The award winners, announced Thursday night, were: Paul Schaefer of Schenectady; Bob Lyons, president of the Montgomery County Water Pollution Abatement Committee of Jamestown; Albert W. Bromley of Albany, director of the conservation education division; Charles E. Baker of Norwich, a State Conservation Department district forecaster; The Buffalo Area Boy Scout Council; the Nassau County Fish & Game Association of Rickville Centre and the International Paper Co. of New York City.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK

To the Sheriff of the County of Ulster: WILLIAM B. MARTIN
GREETINGS:

Whereas, a Trial Term of Supreme Court and Jail Delivery is to be held in and for the County of Ulster at the Court House, in the City of Kingston, on Monday the 3rd day of October, 1966.

WE command you, in pursuance of the provisions of Section 222-a of the Code of Criminal Procedure, in this case made and provided:

FIRST: That you summon the several persons who shall have been drawn in said County of Ulster, pursuant to law, to serve as Grand Jurors and Trial Jurors at the said Court to appear thereat.

SECOND: That you bring before the said Court all prisoners then being in the Jail of said County, together with all process and proceedings in any way concerning them in your hands as such Sheriff.

THIRD: That you make Proclamation, in the manner prescribed by Section 222-c of the Code of Criminal Procedure, notifying all persons bound to appear at the said Court by recognition or otherwise, to appear thereat, and requiring all Justices of the Peace, Coroners and other officers who have taken any recognition for the appearance of any person at such Court, or who shall have taken any inquisition, or the examination of any prisoner or witness, to return such recognitions, inquisitions and examinations to the said Court at the opening thereof, on the first day of its sitting.

WITNESS, Hon. LOUIS G. BRUNO, one of the Justices of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, at the Court House in the City of Kingston, this 13th day of September, in the year one thousand nine hundred and sixty-six.

JOSEPH P. TORRACA
District Attorney of the County of Ulster.

In pursuance of the above precept, I hereby make Proclamation that a term of County Court of Ulster County and Jail delivery will be held at the Court House in Kingston, in and for the County of Ulster, the 3rd day of October, 1966 at 11 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, and all persons who will prosecute against persons confined in the Jail of said County are required to be there and there present to proceed as may be just; and all persons bound to appear at the said Court by recognition, or otherwise are required to appear thereat, and all Justices of the Peace, Coroners and other officers who may have taken any recognition for the appearance of any person at the said Court, or who may have taken any inquisition, or the examination of any prisoner or witness are required to return such recognitions, inquisitions, and examinations on to the said Court at the opening thereof, at the first day of the sitting thereof, and to be then and there present with their rolls and records, inquisitions and remembrances to do those things which to their office pertain.

World News In Brief

Tass Reports Boosts
MOSCOW (AP)—Wholesale prices of Soviet heavy industrial products will be increased an average of 11 to 12 per cent to stimulate production of higher quality goods, the Soviet news agency Tass said today.

Tass said the increases, to become effective next summer, are being prepared to conform with new principles of economic planning set out by Premier Alexei N. Kosygin at a meeting of the Central Committee a year ago.

The new approach increases the importance of profits as a criterion of the efficiency of the national economy.

Discuss Political Crisis
VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Premier Souvanna Phouma flew to the royal capital of Luang Prabang today for talks with King Savang Vatthana over the current political crisis.

The crisis was caused by the National Assembly's rejection of the government's budget for the next fiscal year.

Poland Still Trying
WARSAW, Poland (AP)—Poland's Communist party is continuing its efforts to unify the Red world at a high-level meeting of all parties despite a blunt rejection from Red China.

The meeting would establish a united front to aid North Viet Nam and "upset the hopes of U.S. ruling circles that feel free to extend the scale of war," the official party paper Trybuna Luba said Thursday.

The paper said Soviet-Chinese unity is indispensable to a Communist victory in Viet Nam. It condemned Peking for breaking this unity.

Jersey to Hit Merger
TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—The state of New Jersey will try to prevent the New York Central-Pennsylvania Railroad merger if the Interstate Commerce Commission refuses to order the inclusion of the Erie-Lackawanna in the merged Norfolk-Western line, it was announced Thursday.

The announcement was made by a spokesman for Gov. Richard Hughes of New Jersey, who expressed renewed support for inclusion of the Erie-Lackawanna in the Norfolk-Western merger.

The Erie-Lackawanna and other eastern railroads have filed suits challenging the Pennsylvania-Central merger. The ICC has approved the merger of the Pennsylvania and New York Central lines.

The Erie-Lackawanna contends it would be seriously hurt by the Pennsylvania-Central merger unless it is included in one of the big merging railroads in the East. Hughes met Thursday with state transportation officials and William White, chairman of the Erie-Lackawanna.

Ex-President Truman Confined to His Home

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman has been confined to his home since his return from a hospital where he was taken July 30 suffering from severe colitis.

Truman's long-time secretary, Rose Conway, said the 82-year-old former president promises to return to his office "any day now."

But friends say Truman suffers dizzy spells, especially when he attempts to walk. He has been ordered by his doctor to move about as little as possible, they say.

The intestinal disturbance two months ago kept Truman in Research Hospital, Kansas City, for six days.

The Truman Library, where the former president has a large office, is about a half mile from his home. In recent years Truman has arrived there at 7:30 a.m.—before the office help—and returned home for the day by 11 a.m.

Two years ago he fell against the bathtub in his home and was in the hospital for nine days with two rib fractures and cuts and bruises about the face. The year before he had a hernia operation and close friends say he never fully recovered his strength from that.

Chemung Dem Quits
ELMIRA, N.Y. (AP)—Donald L. Levinger, Chemung County Democratic chairman since 1963, resigned Thursday night.

He gave personal reasons for his action.

Cornelius Kearney, the Elmira city chairman, was named by the county committee to serve on an interim basis. A county chairman will be elected after the November election. Levinger is a lawyer.

Sheriffs' Head Dies

ONEIDA, N. Y. (AP)—Sheriff Philip T. Thomas of Madison County, president of the State Sheriffs' Association, died today in Oneida City Hospital where he had been a patient since Sunday. He was 51.

A native of Cazenovia, he was a resident of nearby Wampsville, the county seat.

Prior to his election in 1958 to the first of three terms, Thomas was a sergeant in the Oneida City Police Department. He was a Republican.

He is survived by his wife, Winifred, a son, Philip Jr., and a daughter, Patricia, all of Wampsville.

The original Louvre in Paris originally was a fortress, and later served as a palace of kings.

Library Sets Two Free October Days

Kingston Library has scheduled two "forgiveness days" on Oct. 6 and 7 for returning of overdue books by delinquent borrowers. No accumulated fines will be paid on those days.

According to Director Robert Neal, books will be accepted no matter how long overdue. He said it is hoped that in this way some 75 volumes, many loaned out some time ago, will be returned.

The library hours on the two days will be from 12:30 to 9 p. m., Neal said.

Hoopie Ends Search, Hires Woman Assistant

BY MAJOR AMOS B. HOPIE
(Original Drawback)

They say, dear friends, that the best way for a handicapper to guarantee success each week is to have a woman assist him in his work. Harumph!

With that thought in mind, this learned observer has searched far and wide and from the little island of Upper Slavodia, I have persuaded Ernestine Yanovith to join my talented staff.

Miss Andreapolis is from ancient Yanovith nobility and has been Mayor and later Sergeant-At-Arms for the two-man cabinet staff of Upper Slavodia. She was persuaded to join the Hoopie Forecasting Staff only because of the prestige involved.

Last week, without benefit of spring practice, with a headwind from the north (editor's note: that headwind came from Hoopie's mouth) and with my other two assistants—Dr. Inerbit and Hannibal Wattaburp—under the weather after overindulging in liquid content, I finished with 14 correct and 6 incorrect picks.

This week's score promises to be much better. Just take a look, paste the selections under your hat (whether it be a cooked one or not) and bet your last sawbuck on them. I promise to come on Monday and visit you in the poorhouse. Kaff-kaff!

Win Over Birds Puts Lead at Two

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sandy Koufax' golden arm is back in cold storage today, but the Los Angeles Dodgers have plenty of ice left over for the champagne.

Koufax, the Dodgers' arthritic southpaw ace, tamed St. Louis 2-1 Thursday night and set another strikeout record as Los Angeles inched a step closer to its second straight National League pennant.

The Dodgers lead second-place Pittsburgh by two games, with three to play, and can nail the flag tonight if they win at Philadelphia while the Pirates stumble against San Francisco.

Koufax turned what could be his last regular-season appearance into an historic triumph, checking the Cardinals on four hits and fanning 13 to become the first pitcher ever to hit the 300-strikeout mark in three different seasons.

The 26-game winner then dipped his pitching arm in ice — his regular postgame routine — and said he'll be available to pitch with two days rest against the Phillies Sunday if the pennant hasn't been wrapped up by then.

Koufax struck out the first two men he faced in the ninth before Curt Flood, who had put the Cards on the scoreboard with a seventh-inning homer, lashed a double to center. Manager Walt Alston then conferred with Koufax and it was decided to walk Orlando Cepeda intentionally, putting the potential winning run on base.

The strategy paid off when Mike Shannon filed to center for the game-ending out.

The Dodgers open their final three-game set at Philadelphia tonight, with Claude Osteen, 17-13, scheduled to pitch against the Phils' Chris Short, 18-11. The Pirates, who were idle Thursday, will send rookie Woody Fryman, 12-9, against San Francisco ace Juan Marichal, 24-6, in the opener of their three-game wind-up at Pittsburgh.

Rookies Click
In Thursday's only other action, Houston nipped Cincinnati 3-2 on homers by rookies Chuck Harrison and Aaron Pointer.

The Kansas City-Baltimore and New York-Washington doubleheaders in the American League were canceled because of rain.

Koufax, who finished the game with a season total of 307 strikeouts, passed the 300-mark for the third time in the last four years when he fanned the side in the fourth inning. Washington's Walter Johnson and Rube Waddell of the Philadelphia Athletics were the only other pitchers who had struck out 300 or more in two seasons.

Kickers Sign Goalie For Berlin U. Contest

Kingston Sport Club Kickers have signed a new goalie in an effort to slow down the high scoring Free University of West Berlin soccer team in Sunday's international exhibition at Oehler's Mountain Lodge.

The newcomer is 25-year-old Alfred (Dunt) Schenke, who hails from Brooklyn and has had considerable experience in organized soccer. He was a member of the Schwen Club of the first division of the German-American Soccer Association and also played in the Chicago area.

Schenke is expected to plug the goalie gap for the Kickers, who have been having trouble at that position since Timo Liekoski quit the team to enter State University at New Paltz to continue his education. And, presumably, play some soccer.

Glenier's Club Bridge Results
Mrs. Harold Rakov, Kingston, and Dr. Paul Perlman, Woodstock, scored 62 per cent to win first place on the North-South side of the Glenier Bridge Club's monthly Master Point tournament.

Leaders on the East-West side were Dr. and Mrs. Harry McNamara of Hurley with 59 1/2 per cent. Twenty four boards competed in a Mitchell movement.

The runnersup: North-South: Henry Berleth, Woodstock, and Ralph Wesselmann, Shokan, 57 per cent; Arling Kalleberg, West Hurley, and Dr. John Roberts, Kingston, 56 per cent; Miss Marie Degenhardt-Earl Yonnell, Poughkeepsie, 54 per cent.

East-West: Tied for second (58 per cent) between teams of Mrs. C. Russell Edwards—Mrs. Robert Hogan, Kingston, and Harry Golin, New York, and Arthur Weinstein, Accord.

Because of the sectional tournament at Grossinger's the weekly session of the Glenier Bridge Club will not be held tonight.

High Schools Feature Heavy Football Slate

Area high schools move into the second week of the scholastic grid season with 11 games on tap. The action begins tonight when Our Lady of Lourdes plays Beacon at Riverview Field, Poughkeepsie. This is a DCSL tilt.

Kingston is on the road Saturday, playing at the New Rochelle field against the powerful Westchester County school. In UCAI engagements, Liberty plays at Marlboro, Highland is at Pine Bush, New Paltz at Ontario and Rondout at Wallkill.

Saugerties travels to Arlington and Roosevelt plays at Poughkeepsie in the DCSL. In non-loop contests, Cardinal Farley is at Middletown, Lakeland at Wappingers and Norwich at Port Jervis in a night game.

Siena College Cagers List 24-Game Schedule This Year

Siena College's basketball team will play a 24-game schedule this winter, the Rev. Paschal J. Monaghan, OFM, athletic director, has announced.

The slate is featured by the return of Hartwick and St. Anselm's to the Indian rivalry. Tom Hannon will be starting his second year as Siena coach. He had a 6-16 record last year.

Fourteen of the games, including the two in the Capital City rivalry, will be played at home.

The Indians will play five contests in the Middle Eastern Conference, while home and home games are carded with St. Francis of Brooklyn, LeMoyne and St. John Fisher.

Hartwick opens the Siena schedule, Dec. 1, at Oneonta. The Capital City event is slated Dec. 29-30 at Gibbons Hall with Albany State, defending champion; Marist and New Paltz as guests.

Albany State will be a late rival this season. The game is carded Feb. 25 at the Albany Armory.

Assumption will be an afternoon competitor, meeting the Indians on Sunday, Feb. 5, at 3:30 p. m. at Gibbons Hall.

The schedule:
Dec. 1, at Hartwick; 3, *St. Peter's; 9, St. John Fisher; 10, Stonehill; 15, at Williams; 29-30, Capital City Invitation.
Jan. 3, at *Kings; 5, at Utica; 7, at *St. Francis; 10, at Potsdam; 11, at Clarkson; 14, LeMoyne; 31, at *Iona.

Fights Last Night

TOKYO — Takeshi Paul Fuji, 140, Hawaii, knocked out Rocky Alarde, 138, Philippines, 3. Fuji won Orient junior welterweight title.

PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — Pete Riccielli, 168, Portland, outpointed Rene Durrell, 171, Baie St. Anne, N.B., 8.

LOS ANGELES — Eddie Machen, 151, Berkeley, Calif., outpointed George (Scrap Iron) Johnson, 216 1/2, Oklahoma City, Okla., 10.

Theoret Leads

Roland Theoret compiled an 850 average on four rounds to lead the final practice trapezoid of the season at the Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club. He had a high string of 23. Bob Schmiedeke and Bernie Moore had strings of 23. The IBM Watson Trophy shoot will be held Saturday, Oct. 10.

Yesterday's Stars

PITCHING — Sandy Koufax Dodgers, stopped St. Louis on four hits and struck out 13, becoming the first pitcher in history to reach the 300 strikeout mark in three different seasons, as the National League leaders edged the Cardinals 2-1.

BATTING — Aaron Pointer, Astros, hit his first major league homer for the winning margin in a 3-2 victory over Cincinnati.

Van Kleeck Is 7th In Point Ratings

Shirley Van Kleeck, Kingston's up and coming racing driver and member of a team with Arlene Lanzier of Connecticut, finished tenth overall in the Area I Championship races at Lime Rock, Conn.

Miss Van Kleeck flipped her Austin Healy Sprite in the 11th lap after working her way up from 33rd position on the starting grid to fifth in H-Production and tenth overall.

Despite a few bumps, bruises and loss of points, Miss Van Kleeck expects to run at Thompson, Conn., on Oct. 8-9 for another shot at Area I points. She is currently in seventh place in point standing. Her partner, Arlene Lanzier, is third. All other H-Production point scorers are men.

The finale for the 1966 season is slated at Lime Rock on Oct. 15.

IN HIS GRASP NOW

Hank Bauer Signs 2-Year Contract

BALTIMORE (AP) — Hank Bauer, who learned managerial strategy under double-talking Casey Stengel, has signed a new two-year contract to manage the penant-winning Baltimore Orioles at a hefty increase in salary.

'Just say I'm in the higher echelon as far as manager's salaries go,' Bauer said Thursday after signing for close to $50,000 a year — less than a week before leading Baltimore into the World Series.

Being as coy as a tough-looking ex-Marine can, Bauer thrust aside inquiries about his pay scale. Typical retorts from the scale.

Bauer, who made an estimated $32,000 this season during the second year of a two-year contract, was asked if he had received a 50 per cent increase. He hazed toward the ceiling, as if doing mental gymnastics, smiled and said, "No."

"You're close," came the quick reply.

Bauer, 44, served as an Oriole coach in 1963, and then replaced Billy Hitchcock for the 1964 season.

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO

Freeman Sports Editor

Manager Ralph Houk's preference for Mike Hegan and Bobby Murcer in the closing stages of the 1966 Yankee debacle is not necessarily prejudicial to Mike Ferraro's chances of making the varsity in 1967.

Although Murcer and Hegan have seen more action than Ferraro, the Kingston lad hasn't suffered too badly by comparison. Prior to the last exit from Yankee Stadium this year, the Toledo farmhands were not exactly a bunch of tigers.

Murcer batted .158 in 57 trips to the plate. Hegan stroked .103 in 29 trips and Ferraro, with 2 hits in 17 at bats had .118. Even Steve Whitaker faded quickly after a sensational start. There are still several Yankee jobs to be won for 1967.

Houk apparently has decided that Murcer will be his shortstop and Hegan the first baseman next year. Joe Pepitone moves to the outfield to join Tom Tresh and Whitaker. Mickey Mantle is likely to return for window dressing and occasional duty. Exit Roger Maris by trade or retirement.

Horace Clarke's brilliant late season play has assured him of first call on second base. This leaves only third base open and the incumbent Clete Boyer will have to be moved out by Ferraro. Boyer's name has figured prominently in the trade rumor mart. There has been speculation that he and Maris will form the bait for a front line pitcher. If Boyer stays, Ferraro will have to fight for a place on the 25-man roster.

Echoes of a Sacking:

Red Barber has been fired by the CBS Yankees but the echoes linger. The reaction followed a consistent pattern. The Old Redhead did his job well, but maybe not too wisely as the once mighty Yankee empire started to crumble. After 33 years in the trade, the witty detached professorial Barber refused to compromise his objectivity and shill for the house.

Joe Garagiola, the funny one, makes no bones about it. "I'm a house man," he says, "that's what I get paid for." Things like 412 paid admissions, a possible 10th place finish and deteriorating prestige made some of the Yankee brass extremely sensitive. To be aware of it was one thing, but for a paid house man to openly report it was unforgivable. That was Red Barber's sin.

Garagiola, Jerry Coleman and Phil Rizzuto are modern types, more oriented toward the house-style operation the Yankees like. But like Casey Stengel said, the broadcasters can't pitch, field and bat for the club. Their job is to package and merchandise a product that currently is somewhat inferior and make it palatable to the fans. It will not be an easy task. After long years, the Baltimore brewery people seem to feel that way.

Flotsam and Jetsam:

Jim Rattray of Port Even caught seven passes for 55 yards and his team's only TD, as Kenyon College lost to Centre College, 20-6. . . . Walter Masterson, who pitched for 14 years in the majors, thinks all records before 1926 should be scrubbed. "The ball is not the same and neither is the equipment," argues Masterson. "I remember going to the Hall of Fame at Cooperstown and I saw a ball Christy Mathewson used for five innings in one of his hitters. The ball was seamed and dirty and looked like something a puppy had been playing with. Can you imagine using the same ball for five innings these days?" . . . No we can't not even for five batters. . . . Recommended for soccer and non-soccer buffs—Sunday's exhibition between the Kingston Sport Club and Free University of West Berlin Sunday at Oehler's Mountain Lodge. And it's all for a worthy cause.

It's All Star Time:

It's that time of the year to pick the 1966 All-Major League baseball team and AP selectors are not going to have an easy time with it. Pitchers? Andy Koufax (L) and Juan Marichal (R). Catcher—Joe Torre. After that? First base—Boog Powell, Orlando Cepeda or Willie McCovey? . . . Second base—Jim LeFebvre, Bill Mazeroski or Pete Rose? . . . Third base (when)—Richie Allen, Harmon Killebrew, Brooks Robinson or Ron Santo? . . . Shortstop—Mauri Wills, Gene Alley, Louis Aparicio, Jose Cardenal, or Zoilo Versalles? Outfielders? That's easy—Willie Mays, Frank Robinson and Roberto Clemente. Managers of the Year? Walt Alston and Hank Bauer.

Boston Patriots president Billy Sullivan pays Joe Namath a supreme compliment: "Joe Namath is probably the biggest sports personality to hit New York since Babe Ruth. In Namath the Jets have the 'biggest' name in sports there."

FROM McCULLOCH

World's First ELECTRIC STARTING CHAIN SAW

Now you can push a button and start either of two new McCulloch chain saws. How? A completely self-contained starter/generator gives you fast, safe starts everytime—recharges the long-life batteries as you cut. Oils its chain automatically, too. All this and still lighter than most ordinary saws! And it's the world's safest to start... you start with both hands on it. Come in and try one today.

Rain Adds 7.21 Inches To Kingston Reservoir

September rainfall in the area of Cooper Lake, the city's main reservoir, as of this last day of the month, was 7.21 inches bringing the cumulative, to date in the year to 29.15 inches. Average for the month in the watershed is 4.2 inches and for the period from Jan. 1 through Sept. 30 it is 35.24 inches.

Kingston had a September rainfall of 6.25 inches, the city engineer's office reported and a cumulative, to date, the most recent rainfall left only .24 of an inch in the reservoir area.

September rain in 1965 at Cooper Lake reported at 6.27 inches, was also above average, but in 1964 the month had only .57 of an inch and Cooper Lake was 12 feet below spillway level. Reservoir storage is now 6.45 feet down or at about 76 per cent of capacity. The most recent rainfall left only .24 of an inch in the reservoir area.

Cool, Windy Area Outlook

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Extended forecast for Upstate New York, prepared by the U.S. Weather Bureau, from Saturday through Wednesday:

It will be quite cool and rather windy, with considerable cloudiness during a good portion of the next five days. There will be some rain at the beginning, with several periods of showers early next week. Temperatures will average well below normal. Daytime highs will be in the 50s to low 60s, with night time lows in the 30s and low 40s.

Average rainfall will amount to one third to two thirds of an inch.

Sentence Is Given

Albert Lewis, 40, of 39 East Union Street, charged recently with assault and disorderly conduct, was sentenced today by City Judge Hubert A. Richter to 90 days in jail on each count to run concurrently. He had been charged with creating a disturbance and with assaulting Officer Patrick Colbert. An original charge of second degree assault was reduced to third degree.

Group Discusses Library Services

During a meeting of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce Thursday night in the Governor Clinton Hotel, interested citizens of the Kingston Area participated in a discussion of present library services.

Leon Karpel, director of the Mid Hudson Library at Poughkeepsie reviewed the current status of the facilities and services of area libraries. Karpel expressed the opinion that although valiant efforts had been made by the various boards of trustees, adequate financing had not been realized by any library in the Kingston Area.

Robert Flores, associate Library Supervisor of the New York State Library, Division of Library Extension, in Albany, reviewed for the group the various methods by which libraries could function. While not recommending one form over another, Flores said that the only dependable, consistent method of obtaining adequate financing was reliance on a plan of tax-base support.

During the discussion which ensued it was decided that a citizens' committee would be formed to study the various ways of improving library service for our area. The group will consider all facets of the matter, including organizational structure, finances and scope of activities.

Chamber President, George Swirsky, said the Chamber's interest in the subject of library improvement stemmed from the fact that a modern, comprehensive library program is a major asset to a community seeking to attract new residents and industry. Swirsky said the Chamber will provide adequate notice of the next public meeting so that interested persons may attend.

ACTION AT BROADWAY FIRE—A third floor apartment in the building housing the Sun Restaurant, 636 Broadway, was damaged by a fire which started in a bedroom. It damaged furniture, clothing and a wall area, and there was smoke and water damage elsewhere in the apartment and slight water damage on the second floor. A call at 12:35 p. m. was followed by an alarm from Box 1211, Broadway and Henry Street, with units from Central and Wiltwyck stations the Wicks, Excelsior and Wiltwyck volunteers responding and Chief James M. Brett and Capt. Robert W. Hardwick in charge. The third floor is occupied by the Carmen Cruz family and the second by the VanOstrand family. The building is owned by Mrs. Francesco Gagliardi, of 150 O'Neil Street. Origin of the blaze was undetermined. A call at 3:36 a. m. today was for a fire in a car owned by Elizabeth Ingersoll, of 42 1/2 North Front Street, while it was parked near that address. It started in the front seat and caused extensive damage. Firemen from Wiltwyck Station responded with Deputy Chief Julius E. Buchholz in charge. (Freeman photo by Kruh.)

patrol gathered in an evening meeting at the headquarters of the local anti-poverty program and reported that there had been no incidents while they were on duty in the residential areas of Hunters Point where rioting broke out Tuesday night after a policeman shot and killed a Negro youth running from a stolen car.

Enforce Curfew
An 8 p.m. to 6 a.m. curfew and in the Fillmore district, San Francisco's other major Negro community located five miles to the northeast.

There were no arrests reported in those areas to swell the arrest total of 208 adults and 29 juveniles picked up since the racial strife began. And there were no new injuries. That total stands at 42, including two policemen and a fireman.

However, in the racially mixed Haight-Ashbury district, which adjoins Fillmore, 60 demonstrators were arrested for violating the 8 p.m. curfew.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown, after spending Wednesday night in San Francisco, flew back to Los Angeles Thursday. He told newsmen he was satisfied that military and police forces had achieved full control in the riot areas.

Jobless Rate High
The jobless rate for Negro males in the five-county San Francisco Bay area is triple the white rate. The rate for Negro women is twice the Negro male rate.

The peace patrol was organized by Negroes after Police Chief Thomas Cahill agreed to keep squad cars out of the residential areas of Hunters Point if residents would keep the peace. National Guardsmen stayed out of the picture, except to protect firemen responding to alarms, both real and false, and to help in the arrests in the Haight-Ashbury district.

DAR Meets Upstate

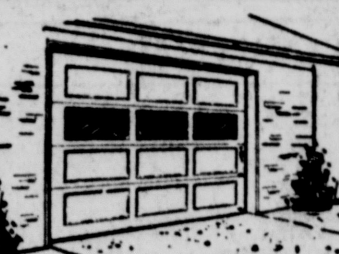

LAKE PLACID, N. Y. (AP)—Members of the Daughters of the American Revolution are urged to work against what the organization calls the mounting "invasion of privacy in American life."

That resolution was adopted Thursday at the annual meeting of the state DAR. About 500 women are attending the three-day program, which ends Friday.

Local Accountant Group Meets With National Officer

John E. Vavasour, New York City, National Treasurer of the Association of Accountants, will preside at a Chapter Operation Seminar for the Mid-Hudson Chapter, National Association of Accountants, at Kitchen Restaurant, Hyde Park, on Monday.

The seminar will begin with a reception and dinner at 5:30 p. m., according to Kenneth Evancie, president of the Mid-Hudson chapter. All officers, directors, associate directors, team captains and past presidents are expected to attend, Evancie said.

Vavasour will be assisted by Robert F. Nolan, member of the national association's headquarters staff, currently in Poughkeepsie to meet with the Mid-Hudson chapter's board of directors to review operational procedures and discuss regional policies.

Oppose Lottery

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—The Citizens Public Expenditure Survey has announced its opposition to establishment of a statewide lottery.

The taxpayer group said in a statement today that it would work with various other organizations opposed to the proposed lottery amendment to the State Constitution.

The amendment will be on the ballot in the November election. Proceeds from the lottery would be used for educational purposes. The State Board of Regents and some other educational groups, however, are against the lottery.
